TROOPS' MISSION AT BORDER IS TO PRESERVE ORDER

Soldiers Are to Patrol Frontier, Guard Against Menace if Independent Government Should Be Set Up, Protect Property and Engage in Maneuvers.

PROVE MEN CAN BE MOBILIZED QUICKLY

Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent With President Taft in Georgia Learns That Force Will Not Enter Mexico, Unless Disturbances Spread.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch With President Taft.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 10.—The mobilization of 20,000 troops in Texas and along the Mexican border is with a four-fold purpose:

1. The insurrectos have recruited their be men and have received arms and ammunition from the United States. ne 1500 United States troops patrolling the more than thousand miles of border have been entirely unable to prevent this. The 20,000 troops are expected to form a stone wall along the border.

2. With the growing strength of the rebels, fostered from the United States. it is not improbable that a purportedly independent government, separated from the United States by only an imaginary line, would, through its irresponsibility, be a constant source of trouble to this country, not only by land, but at the southern ports of the Pacific side. The present demonstration is calculated to prevent that contingency.

3. The United States must protect property of foreigners as well as of Americans in Mexico, or forfeit future use of the Monroe Doctrine. To protect that property troops necessarily would have to cross the border. That would not be done, however, unless disorder increased in Mexico or unless some incident sufficient to justify it occurred. The United States Government and the Diaz Government have understanding on this question.

4. The opportunity is welcomed to prove that troops can be mobilized quickly.

President Taft reached Atlanta shortly after 11 o'clock today, his train having been delayed just this side of Gainesville by a slight accident to the engine.

The weather was ideal. During the greater part of the morning he traveled through blooming peach orchards.

The President was greeted by an immense throng. He was immediately driven to the Auditorium, to attend a session of the Southern Commercial Congress.

AMMUNITION SENT TO SAN ANTONIO

One of Four Carloads Dispatched to Distribute Cartridges Along Border.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 10.—From Fort Sam Houston today four cars loaded with ball cartridges and ammunition for the artillery, were brought to San Antonio. From here one of the cars was sent to Eagle Pass, so that the ammunition might be distributed among soldiers on the Mexican border. This has brought here all available ammunition in the Department of Texas. The officers and men in charge of the San Antonio Arsenal, situated across the city from Fort Sam Houston, were as busy as at the fort. Ordinarily there is only a detachment of ten men at the arsenal to do the necessary guard work. Since the order for mobilizing the troops have reached here the force has been increased to two companies.

Strain Is Telling.

The strain of the preparations at Fort Sam Houston is telling on the officers and men. Until this morning Brigadier-General Joseph W. Duncan, commanding the Department of Texas, has not slept nor had his uniform off in 48 hours. Exhausted physically and mentally, he this morning turned the command over to Col. J. H. Dorst, Third Field Artillery, and retired to his quarters to get rest.

Texans for a better name call the American troops "Alias Maneuvers."

The camp is rapidly filling up. The Seventeenth Infantry, commanded by John T. Van Orsdale, arrived last night and is now in camp. Before Saturday night 75 special trains will arrive here. These will pour into San Antonio about 300 troops for every 30 minutes.

The three railroads operating into the city are taxed to their capacity.

In keeping with the plan for peaceable maneuvers, the officers at the MEXICO CITY, March 10.

CONDITIONS in Northern Mexico, State of Chihuahua, are disagreeable because the rebellion has not yet been controlled, but preparations are being made by the War Department for very active work, which will restore peace and order on the frontier.

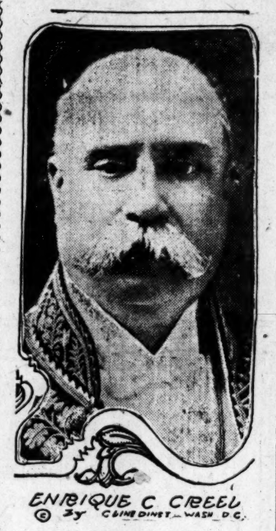

In the other 26 states and four territories of the Mexican union, the situation is quiet and peaceful, with the exception of a few bands of bandits of no political significance.

There is no foundation for alarmistic reports concerning danger to American and European interests in Mexico. The Foreign Office has received no complaint from any foreign interests or from any foreign individual, as no one has been molested or placed in danger.

FINANCIAL conditions in Mexico continue sound and healthful. Banks and railroads are doing good business. The imports for the last six months show an increase of 3,000,000 pesos ($1,494,000).

The health of President Diaz is excellent. He has the support of public opinion and will develop and establish the program of reforms which he has been contemplating for some time, in line with the progress of the country, the advancement of public education and the new order of things.

As the result of a long period of peace and prosperity, the international relations with the United States and all other countries of the world are excellent. The commerce and credit of Mexico is better than ever before. Foreign capital continues to come to Mexico and as soon as the revolt is suppressed,

Mexico will continue its path of great development.

THE movement of American troops to the frontier for the purpose of military maneuvers is looked upon complacently in this country by the Government and people of Mexico, as there is no fear whatever of any conflict with the United States.

President Taft has given assurances to President Diaz that such military operations have nothing to do with Mexican affairs. The whole situation, although somewhat disagreeable, is by no reason dangerous, either for Mexican or for foreign capital.

BURGLAR BRINGS BACK LOOT, HANGS IT ON DOOR KNOB

Conscience-Stricken Criminal Surprises Two Families by Restoring Valuables.

A conscience-stricken burglar has amazed residents of Belleville. Watches, rings and a revolver stolen in nocturnal visits have been returned in neat packages hung on doorknobs at night.

In February, 1909, a burglar entered the home of A. A. Hartnagel, 426 Douglas avenue, and stole a gold watch, six gold rings and a revolver. Friday morning a package hung on the knob of the front door, having been placed there during the night. It contained the stolen watch, four rings and the revolver. Two rings were missing, one of which was Mrs. Hartnagel's diamond engagement ring.

The Hartnagels now live in Jefferson City. No trace of the stolen property was ever found before they left. Mrs. Hartnagel is now visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reutermann, who occupy the house in which the Hartnagels formerly lived. She found the package on the knob, and recognized the articles stolen two years ago.

Wednesday night a gold watch stolen by a burglar Feb. 25, was returned to Mrs. Doretta Moeller of 312 Wabash avenue. The watch, wrapped up in a copy of the Post-Dispatch, hung on the knob of the rear door. Neighbors saw a man on the back porch and telephoned to Mrs. Moeller. When Mrs. Moeller opened the door she found the package.

MAN AND 2 WOMEN DRIVE OVER A BOY

Driver Whips Up Horse and Escapes After the Accident.

Edward Kaplan, 10 years old, son of Moses Kaplan of 2032 Carr street, was run over Thursday at 7 a. m. at Nineteenth and Wash streets by a buggy driven by a man apparently 40 years old, who was accompanied by two women. The wheels cut off a finger of the boy's left hand.

After the boy was knocked down the driver urged his horse to a faster pace, drove west on Wash street and disappeared without stopping to see how badly the boy was injured. Dr. Ayman Kean, 1413 Carr street, dressed the boy's injuries and took him home. The police are trying to locate the occupants of the buggy.

CRIME ON THE DECREASE

So Is Poverty, and Insanity Is Not Menacing.

BOSTON, Mass., March 10.—That there is today less crime in proportion than in the past, with a decrease in pauperism, and no serious increase in the ratio of the insane, is the report of a commission authorized of the Legislature.

The commission gives statistics on all these matters in five-year periods.

ROBBED CHILDREN OF POTATOES, TO PUT UP PEACHES

Richardson Charged With Trading Industrial School Vegetables for Fruit.

DEALER REIMBURSES CITY

Violated Contract by Delivering Articles Later Found in Preserve Jars.

Comptroller Taussig received Friday a check for $406.49, payable to the city, from the William Hartman Commission Co. of 901 North Third street, contractor for the supply of vegetables to the city Industrial School. By this payment the company refunded to the city money which the city had paid for vegetables supposed to have been delivered at the school. Instead of the vegetables, it has been learned, the company delivered fruit, through an understanding with Allen P. Richardson, the recently deposed and indicted superintendent.

Richardson, it is now charged, had the fruit delivered at his own home and had it made into preserves for his own use and the use of his relatives.

When Richardson's home was searched after he had been deposed from the superintendency, the cellar was found full of preserves.

Taussig suspected that the preserves had been made from fruit delivered to Richardson in place of other supplies called for by the contract, and he began an investigation which resulted in the recovery of the money Friday.

Hartman was willing to make restitution to the city when he realized that he was liable to suit on his contract, although he is loser not only the $406.49 but the fruits he furnished to Richardson as well. He said Richardson had deceived him.

The Hartman company had a contract with the city to deliver at the Industrial School 22,670 pounds of potatoes, 25 barrels of sauer kraut, nine barrels of apples and five bushels of onions. Hartman admitted that none of this order had been delivered to the Industrial School.

He said Richardson came to him after the contract was made and told him that the Comptroller and other officials would not permit the boys and girls of the Industrial School to have fruit, but that he wished them to have it. He said the only way for them to get it was for the company to send fruit, instead of the vegetables called for in the contract, and to make the bills out for the supplies called for in the contract.

Richardson worked on his sympathies, Hartman said, and he sent the fruit, but it was ordered delivered to Richardson's home.

Richardson told Hartman that he wished it delivered to his home so the city officials would not discover that he was feeding the boys and girls fruit. The fruit delivered instead of the other order included watermelons, peaches, plums, strawberries, raspberries and pears.

HAIR STORE OWL STOLEN

James C. Elms, proprietor of a women's hair store at 708 N. Broadway, reported to the police Friday that an owl displayed in a coop in front of his store had been stolen. When he was away from the store at 4 p. m. Thursday, he said, two men asked Miss Grace Gibbons, a clerk, whether she thought Elms would be willing to part with the owl. She told them she did not think Elms would sell it.

An hour later Miss Gibbins noticed that the owl and coop were gone. Elms says he intended to take the owl to his summer home in the country.

BILLS FOR HOME RULE ARE VETOED BY THE GOVERNOR

Hadley Declares Measures Would Put Police and Saloons in Politics.

THREE CITIES INVOLVED

Plan to Elect Police and Excise Commissioners Condemned by Executive.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 10.—Gov. Hadley today vetoed the Democratic caucus home rule bills providing for the election of police commissioners in St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, and providing for watchers in the polls.

He declared the police bill would put the police in politics, and would have disastrous results. The veto message on the police bill read:

"The purpose apparently sought to be accomplished by this bill is to confer upon the people of all cities in the State which now have, or which may hereafter have, a population of 75,000, the selection of a board of police commissioners by a method of election, which, so far as I know, is without precedent, and, I am confident, is without reason or argument to justify its adoption."

"The bill provides that, after the first election, at each biennial election, two members shall be nominated and elected in the same manner.

Put Police In Politics.

"The necessary effect of such a law would be to put every policeman in the three large cities of the State actively in politics. And as the police department is the department of government through which the laws of the State, and particularly the laws regulating dramshops in the large cities are enforced, this law would also of necessity put every dramshop keeper in politics.

"The policeman would naturally vote to secure the election of police commissioners who would be favorable to their retention or advancement, and the saloon and liquor interests would naturally favor the election of police commissioners who would not be too strict in the enforcement of the laws regulating dramshops.

"And the nomination of unfit candidates by either the Republican or the Democratic party would practically destroy the efficiency of the board, as the other two members would be incapable of taking any decisive action, because they would not constitute a majority of the board.

Chance for Politicians.

"If the practical politicians, the saloons and the policemen could not control the nominations for police commissioners by both parties, which they probably could do, they could, in a large majority of the elections, control the nomination of one party or the other, and in its practical result this would impair the efficiency of the board for the proper conduct of police affairs and the proper enforcement of the law.

"This measure increases the number of elective offices and prevents the fixing of responsibility for the conduct of public affairs.

"While it is my judgment that there should be a change in the present method of selecting police commissioners for the large cities of the State, I feel confident that the method provided for by this bill is manifestly wrong and that the effect of its passage would be injurious to public morals and decency and the best interests of the people of the three large cities, as well as to the people of the entire State."

The message continues to say the Governor believes that a form of anarchy would follow if the bill became a law, and that a better law is pending which will have his approval. He also believes the present measure is unconstitutional.

TWO BITTEN BY MAD DOG

Animal Attacks Saloon Porter and Later Wounds Proprietor.

A mad dog ran into the saloon conducted by Fred Otto at the corner of the North and South road and the Manchester road in Brentwood, Thursday afternoon, and bit the porter, Nick Schleither, on the leg. The porter hit the dog with a broom and he ran out.

While the porter was bandaging his leg the dog ran in again and went behind the bar and bit Otto on the leg. Otto got his shotgun and killed the dog just as it was running toward three little girls in the road.

BE RIGHTEOUS, SAYS WILL

Mother's Request to Sons, Who Share Estate.

In the will of Mrs. Missouri Gay Evington, filed for probate Friday, her sons, Francis W. and George W., are asked to live righteous lives. The will gives all the estate to them, and says:

"I recommend my two sons to the care of God, through Jesus Christ our Redeemer, and I request them to treat each other right, just and honorably, and to live upright and righteous lives in the sight of God and man."

Mrs. Evington was the widow of George Evington. She lived at 3539A Itaska street.

BIBLE QUOTED IN DIVORCE SUIT OF MINISTER'S WIFE

"Ungodly Shall Perish," Which Father Read to Son, Declared Meant to Annoy.

Quotations from the Bible were used by attorneys for Mrs. Cora L. Korb in a brief filed Friday in Mrs. Korb's suit for divorce from the Rev. Arno B. Korb and custody of their 4-year-old son Theodore.

The attorneys insist that the verses read by the minister to his little son, according to his testimony, are not such as can be understood by a child, and were read for the purpose of harassing a bereaved family. The case was taken under advisement by Judge Allen.

The Rev. Mr. Korb testified that, on a visit to the home of Mrs. Korb's parents to see his son, he read a quotation from the Bible in which were the words, "The Ungodly Shall Perish." He said his purpose was to teach the Bible meaning to his son. Mrs. Korb testified that the quotation referred to her mother, who died in January, and was intended only to annoy Mrs. Korb.

The brief sets out that the quotation is contained in the First Psalm, which is too deep in its teachings to be understood by a child of four.

"He did not read to his son such quotations as 'Suffer little children to come unto me' and other sentences that children can understand," the brief cites.

The attorneys give this as a reason why the minister should not be given the custody of his child. They also urge that Korb made a body-servant of his wife by compelling her to shine his shoes and do other menial duties.

Mrs. Korb's attorneys, who signed the brief, are Charles P. Johnson, Alexander Young and F. B. Sharp.

BURNES TO FLY IF HIS WIFE CONSENTS

St. Louisan Has Received Two-Passenger Aeroplane and Is Waiting for Engine.

Another member of St. Louis' most fashionable society expects soon to flitter about in an aeroplane at Kinloch Park, unless his wife won't let him.

Kennett Burnes of 1 Lennox place has just received his big biplane which C. B. Ripley has been building for him the past six months at Kinloch Park. The engine, 40 horsepower seven-cylinder rotary Landsman, will not arrive for a week. The machine, to carry two passengers, contains ideas from the Curtiss and Farman planes. Ripley built it in Capt. John Berry's plant, 1215 North Vandeventer avenue.

"My wife objects to my maneuvering more than a few feet from the ground," Burnes says, "and I have assured her I will not go high. I may not even be able to leave terra firma. Mrs. Burnes thinks it would be a good idea to let my chauffeur run the machine for me."

CALLING DOG PET NAMES NO CRIME, POLLARD RULES

Judge Says Printer Who Objects to Noise by Mistress and "Witch" Can Move.

Judge Pollard, in the Dayton Street Police Court, ruled Friday that a woman, in her own home, could call her dog all the pet names she wished, and in a loud voice, too, and it would not be a disturbance of the peace of her next door neighbor, even if the noise kept him awake.

Mrs. Barbara Fluger, 3742A St. Louis avenue, was summoned into court on complaint of Gustave Bauer, who lives next door. Bauer is a printer for a morning newspaper and sleeps daytimes. Mrs. Fluger was charged with disturbing his peace. He testified she had a dog, "Witch," and was always playing with it and calling it pet names.

"What did she call the dog?" asked Judge Pollard.

"'Here, Witch;' 'Come here, Witch,' 'Pretty Witch,' 'Good Witch,' 'Fine Witch,' 'Baby Witch,' all day, and it kept me from sleeping."

"Did she threaten to strike you or harm you in any way?" asked the Judge.

"No; she just kept talking to that infernal dog all day."

"She has a right to do that in her own home and it is your right to move if it interferes with you," said the Judge. He discharged Mrs. Fluger.

Missouri—Unsettled weather, with probably rain tonight or Saturday.

Illinois—Fair tonight; Saturday, increasing cloudiness, probably rain in north portion.

JAMES R. WADE KILLS HIMSELF IN HIS OFFICE

Brother of Festus J. Wade Sends Bullet Into His Brain After Writing Six Letters, Three of Which Were to His Wife, Who Is Living on a Farm.

HIS LAST WORDS A JOKE TO WATCHMAN

Recently Complained That Sad Pictures in Nickelodeons Had Depressing Effect Upon His Spirits—Motive for Act Is Mystery.

James R. Wade, inventor, politician and president of the National Vacuum Steam Heating Co., was found dead with a bullet wound in his left temple and a revolver at his side in his office, room 805 Victoria Building, at 6:30 a. m. Friday.

Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Co., his brother, who claimed the body an hour after it was found, conceded that he killed himself, but said he knew of no motive.

In the pockets were found small change, a knife and a comb.

Wade was 53 years old and had always resided in St. Louis. Five months ago he left the Third National Bank Building and rented the room in the Victoria Building.

Mrs. Mary Pickering, a caretaker in the building, who found the body, says that when she went into Wade's office at 9 p. m. Thursday, Wade was at his desk, writing. He asked her to wait until morning to clean the office. She says that recently Wade told her that he frequently went to moving picture shows and that sad pictures had a strange attraction for him, but often so worked upon his sensibilities that he had to leave the theater.

Mrs. Pickering says that while Wade frequently spoke to her about sad picture shows which he had seen, so far as she remembers, he never spoke of seeing a picture in which a suicide was enacted.

A year ago Mrs. Pickering's daughter was crowded off the gangplank of an excursion steamboat and drowned. It was through discussion upon this sad experience of the caretaker that Wade came to make her his confidante as to the strange effect which pathetic moving pictures had on him.

In addition to his connection with the vacuum heating company Wade also was St. Louis agent for the Consolidated Engineering Co. of Chicago and the Boston Thermograde Co.

Apparently he was in his office all night writing farewell messages to relatives and business associates.

Left Six Letters.

Mrs. Wade is in Sullivan, Mo. Three of the six letters found on his desk were addressed to her. The others were to his brother, Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Co.; his son, James R. Wade Jr., of the St. Louis Fire Door Co.; Thomas G. Wade of the Holbrook-Blackweider Real Estate Trust Co., and P. E. Van Auken of the Consolidated Engineering Co., Jackson and Canal streets, Chicago.

Mrs. Pickering opened the door of Wade's office at 6:30 a. m. She found Wade lying on the floor. Apparently he had been sitting in a swivel chair at his roll-top desk on the north side of the room and had fallen from the chair when he shot himself.

Mrs. Pickering called John R. Dailey, the night watchman, who found that the bullet had entered the left temple. The revolver was found near the body.

Sat in Shirt Sleeves.

When he shot himself Wade was in his shirt sleeves. His coat was hanging on a hook and his hat was on the desk. The letters were in a pile on the desk, those addressed to his wife being on top.

Dailey notified Leonard Offerman, bartender in the Victoria Building cafe, who telephoned to Festus J. Wade and other members of the family.

Festus Wade reached the morgue a few minutes after the body arrived there. He called up Chief Deputy Coroner Carriere and obtained permission to put the body in charge of an undertaker. The police permitted him to take all of the letters.

His Brother Shocked.

"I am inexpressibly shocked. Undoubtedly my brother committed suicide, but I can't throw the slightest light on the motive," said Wade to reporters.

Employes in the Victoria Building believe that Wade was in his office all night. Night Watchman Dailey met him in the lobby of the building on the first floor at 8 p. m.

He says that Wade's last word to him was a joke.

"I have lost my spectacles. I can't see without glasses, so that's why I can't find my spectacles. Will you lend me yours? Then I may be able to find mine."

Dailey loaned Wade his glasses. They were on Wade's desk when the body was found.

Since last June, Wade had been

REBELS CAPTURE CASA GRANDE; STILL FIGHTING

Loss on Both Sides Heavy in Renewed Attack on Federals by Madero's Forces.

AMERICAN DEAD NOW 15

And 35, in Charge of Machine Guns, Were Taken Prisoners by Diaz's Troops.

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, Tex., March 10.—Dispatches last night from Columbus, N. M., state that Madero's forces, under Col. Garcia, have renewed the attack upon Col. Cuellar's Federals at Casa Grande. They have captured the town, but are still fighting to retain possession. The loss is said to be heavy on both sides.

The number of Americans reported dead is increased to 15, while 35 are said to have been taken prisoners by the Federals.

These men are said to have been recruited at Ahumada and were in charge of the machine guns under Capt. Harrington.

Late last night Col. Rabago telegraphed Juarez officials that he expected to reach Chihuahua early today, restoring rail and telegraph communications with that city. The message said that detachments of troops are guarding the road.

REBELS WIN WITH HELP OF INDIANS

Two Planters Are Among the Slain in a Hand-to-Hand Battle in Yucatan.

MERIDIA, Yucatan, Mexico, March 10.—In a hand-to-hand battle between a small detachment of Government troops and a body of rebels who had captured the Hacienda Catmis, near Quintana Roo, Antonio and Enrique Cicero, well-known planters, were killed. The rebels, through arrangements with the laborers, Yaqui Indians, seized the hacienda.

A small body of troops under command of Maj. Cristobal Quarrillo hastened to the attack.

Armed with machetes and firearms, the insurrectos forced the troops to retreat. Several were slain.

Insurrectos have named the town of Peto, which they captured, "Madero."

Yesterday a detachment of Federal troops from Vera Cruz landed at Progreso for the relief of Temax.

MEXICANS CROSS BORDER TO FIGHT

107 Sent From California but Americans Are Eliminated From Rebel Force.

MEXICALI, Mexico, March 10.—Fully equipped, except as to rifles, 107 Mexicans sent down by the revolutionary junta in Los Angeles, joined the insurrectos last night.

The Americans, who consisted largely of members of the Industrial Workers of the World, and who planned to establish socialistic utopia in Lower California, have all been eliminated from the rebel force.

Gen. Leyva and Simon Berthold, fully restored to power, announced their intention of marching upon Ensenada at once. The plan is to leave tonight with 300 men.

Leyva reaffirmed the news of the taking of Tecarte at 4 o'clock this morning, and declares that the 50 men who achieved the capture will join in the campaign against Ensenada.

TOWN THREATENED BY REBEL FORCES

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 10.—The rebel bands of Juan Cabral, "Red" Lopez and Bracamente appeared suddenly before Agua Prieta last night. It is believed the move is being made in conjunction with Blanco and that Agua Prieta will be attacked.

There was a rush of Mexicans to the American side.

When word was received that the rebels were threatening the town, Capt. Frank Johnson of Troop M of the Third Cavalry ordered troops to the border. The cavalrymen spent the night riding the line between here and Agua Prieta.

The Mexican authorities at Agua Prieta issued orders that any crossing the line from the north would be shot.

Agua Prieta is not prepared to oppose a combined attack from Cabral and Blanco. Blanco's force is reported a few miles to the southwest. The city has only 50 soldiers, half of whom are citizens, and no machine guns.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 10.—Adjutant-General Forbes of the California National Guard has received a telegram from the War Department requesting him to report at once the number of men and officers available in the State militia.

Details are also called for concerning the uniforms and equipment and the locations of the various companies. No intimation of the purpose of the department in demanding the information was given.

ARMY CHIEF GOES THROUGH ST. LOUIS

Maj. Gen. Carter and His Staff Stop Off in City Between Trains.

Major-General William H. Carter, who will have command of the army of 20,000 men which is being mobilized in Texas, was in St. Louis for one and one-half hours Thursday night.

Gen. Carter, with the officers of his staff, arrived in St. Louis at 7 p. m. on the Big Four train from Washington, D. C., and took dinner at the Union Station restaurant while waiting until 8:35 p. m. for the Iron Mountain train for San Antonio, Tex.

The General was met at the Union Station by Capt. William H. Wilson and Maj. W. M. Coulling of the Depot Quartermaster's Department and Col. H. D. Snyder, who is in charge of the Medical Supply Department in St. Louis. With Gen. Carter were the following officers: Col. S. C. Mills, chief of staff; Col. H. P. Birmingham, Chief Surgeon; Capts. Learnerd and Craig, assistant chiefs of staff; Maj. Straub of the Medical Corps, Maj. Reese of the Engineer Corps, Maj. Squires of the Signal Corps, Maj. Persons, assistant chief of staff; Maj. Withrock of the Medical Supply Department and Lieut. Pratt, aid-de-camp.

When a photographer had taken a flashlight picture of him, Gen. Carter said:

"I hope that is the only smell of powder we will get in these maneuvers."

He would not discuss the revolution in Mexico, but said the maneuvers were merely to attest the efficiency of the United States army.

HORSES FOR ARMY BURNED IN A CAR

By Associated Press.

DENISON, Tex., March 10.—One car of horses is known to have been destroyed and two soldiers are reported injured as a result of a fire which originated in a stock car of a troop train on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad near Durant, Okla., last night.

The train was the first section of an army special en route from Fort Leavenworth to San Antonio. After the burned car was detached the train resumed its journey.

WARSHIP OREGON ABOUT COMPLETE

SEATTLE, Wash., March 10.—The famous old battleship Oregon, which has been practically rebuilt at the Puget Sound navy yard, can be put in commission in 10 days now, according to Rear Admiral V. L. Cottman, commander of the yard.

Yesterday the crew of 18 civilian watchmen who have been stationed on the Oregon while she was undergoing repairs, was removed from the old battleship and 18 sailors substituted. The repair work which has cost more than $1,000,000, is practically complete.

WILD SHOOTING BY POSSE ENDS CHASE

One Gets Bullet Through Hat and Pursuit of Burglars in Athens, Ill., Is Stopped.

A crowd of men armed with revolvers and shotguns hunted the streets and alleys of Athens, Ill., for an hour early Friday morning for two burglars who robbed three houses and were discovered in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Junk.

Mrs. Junk opened her window and called for help as the burglars ran out. Men, awakened by the cries, came from all directions and soon a crowd of 50 persons were in pursuit. One of the burglars was captured by Harry Hull, but escaped again.

Members of the posse began shooting and one put a bullet through Hull's hat. Then it was decided that it would be better for all to return to their homes before someone should be killed.

The burglars got $10 from the home of William Schmelzel, a gold watch from the home of George Bertold and $8 from the home of Robert Sterling.

REYES, IN ROME AS SEMI-EXILE, LOYAL TO DIAZ

Mexican Leader, Sent Abroad for "Study," Praises Aged President.

HE ANTICIPATES REFORMS

With Uprising Ended, He Declares, Government Will Make Concessions.

Copyright, 1911, by Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

ROME, March 10.—Gen. Bernardo Reyes, who was considered as next to President Diaz the strongest political leader in Mexico, said today:

"I wish to remove an erroneous impression prevailing in the United States, that I am discontented with the present government of Mexico and that I am even capable of fomenting a revolution there.

"That President Diaz intrusted me with my present mission is itself sufficient proof of his complete confidence in my loyalty."

Gen. Reyes, lately Governor of the State of Nuevo Leon, in Northern Mexico, and formerly War Minister in Diaz's Cabinet, is in Europe ostensibly to study the military organization of the powers, with a view to reorganizing Mexico's army. There was a general belief that his departure from Mexico was in the nature of a sugar-coated decree of exile.

Diaz Not Seriously Ill.

"I can deny positively the report that President Diaz is dying," said Gen. Reyes in the course of an important interview with the Post-Dispatch correspondent. "I received a private cablegram through the Mexican legation here today, stating that Diaz's illness is not serious. I believe the President will live several years. Although he is 80, 10 years older than I am, he is wonderfully robust; he can tire men out at any military exercise.

"The whole issue in Mexico lies in a nutshell," said Gen. Reyes. "We want a firm, continuous internal policy to stifle the anarchy which has smoldered in Mexico for 50 years. This policy is represented in the person of President Diaz.

"The so-called popular grievance which lies back of the present movement in Mexico relates to the electoral question, as applied to the vice-presidency. Once the present agitation in Mexico is ended, the Government will be ready to consider certain reforms, but it refuses to have its hand forced. We believe peace alone can bring lasting prosperity to the country."

Would Pacify Mexico.

"Should President Diaz die?" the Post-Dispatch correspondent asked.

"Then I and a few of my countrymen would unite to restore order," sair Gen. Reyes. "Personally, before taking arms against the insurgents I would be ready to discuss a basis for a mutual arrangement."

"Then you do not look with favor on the idea of intervention in Mexico by the United States?"

"Absolutely no," was the prompt reply. "But I prefer not to discuss the mobilization of the United States Army and fleet in Texas, and the neighboring waters, because incorrect reports about President Diaz's health have put us in a false position with our neighbors to the north.

"What I insist upon is this," Gen. Reyes emphasized in conclusion, "Mexico is strong enough to manage and settle her internal affairs."

A few years ago Gen. Bernardo Reyes was generally regarded in Mexico as the logical successor of Diaz. One result of the presidential campaign of 1904 was the rupture of friendly relations between Diaz and Reyes. A then somewhat complicated situation was relieved by the creation of the office of Vice-president. Ramon Corral was elected to that office. Last year Reyes was backed by a strong party for the vice-presidency, but was sent out of the country before the election.

ing at the home of Burton McGinnis at 5974 Minerva avenue. For two years before that he lived with his daughter, Mrs. Edward Parmelee, at 3836 Westminster place. Mrs. Parmelee moved to Sullivan, Mo., where Mrs. Wade and her sons, Harry and Anderson, are operating a farm purchased by Wade several years ago.

Was No Estrangement.

There had been no estrangement of Mr. and Mrs. Wade. Mrs. Wade agreed to satisfy her sons' ambition to be farmers while her husband remained in the city. He frequently visited the farm and Mrs. Wade almost daily talked to him over the long distance telephone. Wade sometimes told his friends that he was lonesome for his wife and boys.

Wade left the McGinnis home at 8 a. m. Thursday. At 5 p. m. he telephoned that he would not be home for supper. This was not considered unusual, as he was a member of the Elks, Missouri Athletic, Engineering and other clubs.

After she was notified of his death Friday, Mrs. McGinnis found that a revolver which he always kept in a holster in his room was missing. It answers the description of the weapon found near his body. He is believed to have taken it with him when he left home Thursday morning.

Wade was a licensed stationary engineer, and continued to hold the license to the time of his death. Several years ago he went into the scientific heating business, preparing plans and specifications for the heating of large office buildings and business houses.

Recently Wade invented a ventilating system. The office where he was found dead was equipped with it. The invention consisted of a perforated sheet of iron air conduit running around the wall near the ceiling and communicating with the outer air.

He was a close personal friend of the late Councilman John J. O'Brien of the John O'Brien Boiler Works, and of Thomas J. Leonard, a member of the Democratic City Committee. Wade took considerable interest in politics, and was frequently mentioned for different offices, but never nominated.

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY

It is said there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town!

A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

Best possible wash for pimples and all skin impurities.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25 cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

FLAG OF TRUCE RECONCILES KIEL AND KREISMANN

Mayor, Stifel, Bartholdt, Nolte and Brinkop at the Harmony Pow-Wow.

ALL IS PEACE NOW

Members of Both G. O. P. Factions Reticent as to How Meeting Came About.

After two years of bitter political warfare, the Republican factions, led by Mayor Kreismann and Chairman Kiel of the Republican City Committee have become reconciled. Republican politicians imparted this joyful information Friday following a peace conference at a downtown cafe Thursday afternoon, which was attended by Otto F. Stifel, the brewer-politician and powerful ally of Chairman Kiel, Mayor Kreismann, Congressman Richard Bartholdt, Sheriff Nolte, Assessor Brinkop and others.

"You know I have never had a fight with the Mayor," was Chairman Kiel's bland remark to a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday.

Hustlers to Explain.

"Did you bring the Mayor and Stifel together?" Kiel was asked.

"Now, I don't know a thing about that conference," he answered. "I didn't know, in fact, there was going to be one, but—I assume the Mayor and Stifel wished to talk matters over.

"Mayor Kreismann and myself always did get along well together."

Overtures for peace are said to have emanated from the headquarters of the Republican City Committee. Stifel is about to start for Europe and will be gone a year. It was Stifel's money and Stifel's lieutenants, the leaders say, which kept alive the Kiel opposition to the administration. In the recent primary election the Kiel forces defeated the Mayor overwhelmingly and if the Republican Council ticket is elected the Mayor will have to look to Kiel's friends for support.

Plenty of Patronage.

This is a view the Mayor has refused to take, however. With the appointment of a score of officials in the spring, each of whom will have hundreds of jobs within his jurisdiction, the Mayor has felt that he could take care of himself without the aid of the majority in the Republican committee.

Now that Stifel has lifted the flag of truce the situation is completely changed. The Mayor may concede a few valuable plums to the City Committee and in return have the assurance of solid Republican aid in the upper and lower branches of the Assembly.

Mayor Kreismann insists that the meeting with Stifel was merely incidental and without particular significance.

"It was just this way," he said. "Col. Stifel and I hadn't seen each other for some time. We attended an insurance meeting Thursday and after it was over I suggested that in view of Col. Stifel's departure for Europe Saturday we ought to have a little farewell drink.

"Did we discuss politics? Why, of course not. That was very far from our minds. There were others there and they can tell all about it. I don't know why any fuss should be made over a little dinner party."

Congressman Richard Bartholdt, a leading member of the Interparliamentary Union for the Promotion of Peace, was conspicuous at the conference. He is credited with having formed the treaty of peace. The Mayor and Stifel drank to each other's health.

Chairman Kiel intimated that he did not attend the political lovefeast because "the Mayor and Col. Stifel wanted to talk matters over."

Kreismann has charged that Stifel dominated the Kiel faction of the Republican committee and that the organization was trying to hamper his administration. The Mayor refused to give any jobs to politicians recommended by the Kiel-Stifel adherents in the City Committee.

With Stifel leaving the scene of political activity for a year and the spring campaign on hand, with a Republican Council and House of Delegates ticket at stake, Republicans point out that the conference was directly aimed at a union of the factions in the interest of general party harmony.

According to the Democratic viewpoint, this is usually the way the Republicans get together shortly before the election, and it has been notably true of the local Republican organization.

Working for Ticket.

Nearly all of the Kreismann committeemen have been working actively through the organization for the ticket since it was nominated.

Stifel and Kreismann fell out over Jeptha D. Howe. Howe was made the de facto boss of the Republican party in St. Louis largely through the instrumentality of Stifel. Then, Howe, using his power, nominated Kreismann for Mayor over Stifel's protest. After Kreismann was elected, Howe became his chief political adviser.

Then Stifel organized the Kiel faction of the committee to shear Howe of his power and make Kreismann obedient. In all the political skirmishes between Stifel and Kreismann, the Stifel-Kiel forces have been victorious.

BOONVILLE BRIDE ON A VISIT TO ST. LOUIS

MRS. FLORIE ANDREWS GEORGE

WEDDING OF HER DAUGHTER IS TOLD ON SHOPPING TOUR

Mrs. Jennie Andrews, wife of Col. C. E. Andrews, retired capitalist of Boonville, Mo., took advantage of a shopping visit to St. Louis Thursday to announce the romantic marriage of her daughter Florie, 23 years old, who has a wide acquaintance in St. Louis, to Todd M. George, 32 years old, a real estate dealer of Lee's Summit, Mo. Mrs. George came to St. Louis with her mother. They are at the Jefferson Hotel, and will remain here until Saturday.

"My daughter was married March 1 at Kansas City," Mrs. Andrews told a Post-Dispatch reporter, "but we thought it better to wait until we came to St. Louis and announce the fact through the Post-Dispatch, so that an incorrect view might not be taken of the marriage. It was not in any sense a runaway match. They were to have been married, anyhow, after Easter."

The bride has many friends in St. Louis. She was the guest of the Misses Lulu and Clara Yonge at the home of their father, Attorney H. A. Yonge, last fall, and served at one of the booths at the flower show.

Several weeks ago she went to visit Mrs. Nelle Lamont of Moberly, Mo. Todd George also received an invitation to visit at Mrs. Lamont's home. Then, a week ago Wednesday, a Mr. Myers, an official of the Wabash Railroad, invited Mrs. Lamont and her guests to take a ride with him in his private car to Kansas City.

When they got to Kansas City the young people decided to get married then instead of waiting until after Easter.

Miss Andrews and George met at the Confederate reunion at Mobile, Ala., a year ago. Both their fathers fought on the Southern side in the Civil War.

GERMAN PAPERS EXPECT THE U. S. TO INVADE MEXICO

They Regard Mobilization of Troops in Texas as Start to Cross Border.

OIL TRUST MENTIONED

Not One Publication Will Accept the Reason Given by Administration.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1911, by Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

BERLIN, March 10.—German newspapers decline to believe the American statements that the mobilization of troops in Texas is intended merely to protect foreign interests. The Mexican legation in Berlin publishes a vigorous denial of the statement that President Diaz is ill and asserts on the contrary that the President enjoys the best of health, according to a cable message received today.

The Mexican Minister, Senor de Icaza, informed several reporters today that he could see no reason to believe that the revolution really is so alarming. He asserted that exaggerated reports were being circulated in Europe, due to inaccurate statements appearing in American newspapers. When asked what object the press could have in spreading a false alarm, he replied: "America's military preparations give the answer."

One Paper's Version.

The Radical Morgen Post, probably the least jingoistic of the big German papers, says:

"It is understandable why the American Government should wish to be prepared in the event of necessity to interfere to protect the enormous interests of the Standard Oil Trust and other American investments, but anyone who has noted certain machinations of the American trusts in Mexico will not be able to resist the impression that the present mobilization is in no wise intended merely to protect foreign interests. It is openly stated here that the Standard Oil Trust is supporting the revolutionaries, and in Washington and New York certain influential persons long have been agitating for the seizure of Mexican territory."

Sees Taft Move.

Finally the Morgen Post says President Taft easily may have arranged for a great patriotic coup to restore the prestige of the Republican administration.

"Since Mr. Taft has every reason," it says, "to try and freshen up the very faded prestige of the Republican party by a great, successful coup, distrustful people may well consider that the American mobilization has a very different purpose than that of protecting foreign interests."

The idea of stirring up foreign complications in order to distract attention from domestic troubles is regarded by Americans here as essentially German.

Quieting Powers Scattered.

The Tagliche Rundeschau says:

"American diplomats understand their business. While they work feverishly at hurrying forward troops, they skillfully scatter around quieting rumors in the shape of misleading statements."

The Boersen Courier, the organ of the big German banks, says:

"Mexican statements that Diaz is not ill and that the revolution is not important, must simply be regarded as a game of hide and seek until conclusive proof is offered that Diaz really is able finally to control the revolution, which a dozen times has been described as practically suppressed."

NORTH AND SOUTH ST. LOUIS HAIL NEW CAR LINES

Schutz and Schneiderhahn Find Compromise Popular in Those Sections.

CITY'S POWER LIMITED

Couldn't Force United Railways to Make Improvements Without Concessions.

The ordinance compromising the city's $1,750,000 mill-per-passenger tax claim against the United Railways Co., for $1,000,000, and insuring the company against attack on the validity of its franchises until 1948, in consideration of concessions by the company will be introduced in the Municipal Assembly Friday evening.

Councilman Schutz told a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday that he believed the people of St. Louis would be well pleased with the terms of the compromise. He said:

"I have been congratulated by the people of North St. Louis for getting the promise of a crosstown line for that section, and Councilman Schneiderhahn has been congratulated by the people of South St. Louis for getting a crosstown line in his part of the city.

"After three months' investigation of the city's powers of control over the United Railways Co., we found them to be very limited. It was necessary to make compromises to get better service.

"The people living along the different lines of the United Railways Co. will want the franchises to continue and not to expire from time to time. They will have to have car service. In arranging the compromise, we did the very best we could for the people of the city. When the full terms of the compromise are understood the people will find very little to complain of, I am sure."

Speaker Rombauer said he had received from Henry S. Priest, general counsel of the United Railways, a copy of the proposed compromise ordinance.

"The important provisions in the ordinance have been given to the public accurately by the Post-Dispatch," said Rombauer.

"A NERVOUS WRECK"

"My daughter is rapidly becoming a nervous wreck," said an anxious father to a friend who happened to be a druggist,—"she has no appetite, is run-down, weak, takes no interest in anything, and we cannot find anything that helps her."

"Why don't you give her Vinol"—said the druggist—"it is not a secret nostrum, just a simple and delicious cod liver and iron tonic—and the best strength creator and general all round tonic we have ever sold in our store. Take a bottle home and try it. We'll return your money if it does not help her."

Within ten days the father came back for another bottle of Vinol, saying that he had never seen such a change in a girl in his life, and he felt sure one more bottle of Vinol would restore her to her normal condition.

Such cases as the above are constantly coming to our attention, and we ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person in this vicinity, and every person suffering from a chronic cough, cold, or bronchial trouble, to try a bottle of Vinol on the same terms as above. OLYMPIA SESSION ENDS

Lawmakers Adjourn After Working Until 4:15 A. M.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 10.—The Legislature completed its session at 4:15 o'clock this morning.

Both Houses had to resort repeatedly to turning back the clock. The delay in adjournment was due to the deadlock in conference over the legislative reapportionment bill. Among other measures passed was an eight-hour law for women workers and an employes compensation act.

FIRE CHIEFS TO SEE TEST

They Will Visit New York to View Auto Fire Engines.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Twenty fire chiefs from various sections of the United States will be in New York next week to witness the tests of the first of the city's $11,000 automobile fire engines.

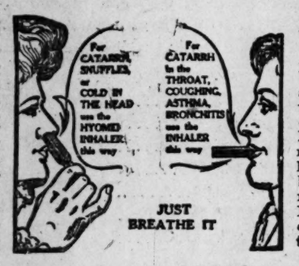

The engines are gasoline driven, but pump by steam, as in the case of the horse-drawn vehicles. Each weighs 16,000 pounds and can travel 30 or 40 miles an hour.

Best Remedy for Catarrh, Croup, Coughs, and Colds

Breathe HYOMEI for all diseases of the breathing organs. It is guaranteed.

In case of croup, which is very common in children, send for a doctor at once. In the meantime pour 30 drops of HYOMEI into a bowl of boiling water and hold the child's head over it, covered with a towel or cloth so that only the air filled with HYOMEI vapor is breathed.

This treatment has saved many a child's life and mothers of croupy children should always have HYOMEI on hand.

For coughs, colds and catarrh, breathing HYOMEI through the inhaler is usually sufficient.

Many people however, use the HYOMEI vapor treatment in conjunction with the inhaler.

The vapor treatment is best taken just before going to bed; it only takes about five minutes time. Pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEI into a bowl three quarters full of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel, and breathe the vapor that arises deep into the lungs. By this method many a hard cold has been broken up over night. A HYOMEI outfit which consists of a bottle of HYOMEI and a hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00 at druggists everywhere. Extra bottles if afterward needed cost only 50 cents. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

CONGRESS TOTAL APPROPRIATIONS $1,025,489,662

Figures Given Out by Chairman Tawney Who Praises President Taft.

LIVINGSTONE COMMENTS

Points to Increase "Since Mr. Roosevelt Was Unhappily Called Into Power."

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Appropriations at the last session of Congress aggregated $1,025,489,662, according to the statements issued today by former Representatives Tawney of Minnesota and Livingston of Georgia, who were respectively chairman and ranking Democrat of the House Appropriations Committee in the last Congress.

Tawney says this is less than $1,000,000 in excess of the total estimates of President Taft on which the appropriations are based, pays high tribute to the Executive for good faith in scrutinizing estimates and computes that the surplus of revenues next year will be not less than $26,642,000, which, with any part of the treasury cash balance, may be applied to the sinking fund.

Billion Dollar Mark Upheld.

Against this Livingston says the last session record demonstrated that when the Democratic party comes into complete control of the Government, "this billion dollar mark for a session's appropriations, established four years ago at the first session of the Sixtieth Congress, cannot be substantially lowered, if lowered at all."

Tawney renews his recommendation for the consolidation of the appropriating jurisdiction of the House under a single committee of sufficient size to be representative of all sections of the country and of all branches of the public service. Eight committees now consider and report appropriation bills.

The Committee on Appropriations, which reports more than half of the total appropriations of Congress, reported during the first regular session of the last Congress $16,983,925 less than the estimates, while the appropriations by all the other appropriating committees, according to Tawney, were $27,931,402 in excess of the estimates. Tawney contends that if this consolidation reform had been effected it would have saved $62,000,000 at that session alone.

Declaring that the Democrats want to save the people of this country "from the danger which threatens them because of the rampant expenditure of their money that has been going on for the last 12 years," Livingston contends that militarism is a menace and that Democratic accession will prevent national bankruptcy.

Task of Cutting Difficult.

He says it is a superhuman task to restore expenditures to a normal level because of the enormous liability fastened on the Treasury "by the statutory increase of the enlisted strength of the army and the navy four fold since Mr. Roosevelt was so unhappily called to the executive office of the republic."

Sounding a note of alarm against a "threatened onerous" direct tax with all its inquisitorial features, Livingston says that if that day comes, "the people will rise in their might with a cry that will be heard to the remotest corners of the earth and shake from themselves and their posterity the manacles of burdensome taxation fostered by the Republican party."

32 YEARS SEPARATION NOT DIVORCE GROUND

Court Refuses Man Decree and Also Wife's Plea for Support.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 10.—That a husband who has permitted his wife to live apart from him for 32 years is not entitled to a divorce nor is the wife who has waited that long before asking that her husband provide for her the right to demand support was held by Chancellor Heiskell yesterday.

In the suit Mrs. Elizabeth Gerber, aged 76 years, sought an order compelling Jacob Gerber, aged 67, to make provision for her support. Gerber replied with a cross-bill asking divorce. The couple separated 32 years ago.

Ten Indicted as Mob Members.

WESTON, W. Va., March 10.—Ten men have been indicted on a charge of attempting to lynch William Forbes, a negro, under sentence of death for attacking Flora Anglin. A penitentiary sentence is possible. Forbes is to be hanged March 17.

Six Mexicans Are Indicted.

EL PASO, Tex., March 10.—The grand jury today returned indictments against six Mexicans on the charge of kidnaping Lawrence Converse and Edwin Blatt two weeks ago. This is believed to be the first step toward extradition proceedings.

ONE DOSE RELIEVES INDIGESTION AND ALL OTHER STOMACH DISTRESS.

If you had some Diapepsin handy and would take a little now your stomach distress or Indigestion would vanish in five minutes and you would feel fine.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, out-of-order stomach before you realize it.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour rising, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no undigested food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drugstore waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disturbance.—ADV.

Splendid Varieties in Misses' and Children's Apparel

(A Few of the Dainty New Dresses—Third Floor.)

WE are exceptionally well prepared with our showing of Outergarments. It embraces the greatest variety in every line, and you will agree it is complete in every sense of the word.

Misses' Suits, $16.50

IN two respects these garments are noteworthy—because of their style and the price. They are strictly tailored, with short jaunty coats and straight skirts. Made of solid color blue or black hard-finished serge or pencil-striped worsted in navy, gray and black; special, $16.50.

Misses' Topcoats

TOPCOATS for misses and small women. Styles are so varied as to make a thorough description impossible. The new Empire effect so attractive on the small figure, is featured, together with newest trimmings, fastenings and prettiest materials. The price range does not begin to tell the story of the great variety of styles. Priced, $9.95 to $55.00.

Suits, $19.75 to $55.00

HERE'S the largest and best assorted lot of Suits that you'll see. There are any number of smart tailored and fancy trimmed models; made of worsteds, serges, mannish cloths, satin, mixtures and tweeds; broad range of colors, including tans, grays, blue, white or black. Priced, $19.75 to $55.00.

Misses' Spring Dresses, $14.75 to $65

THE Dress Section has every model from the simple little frock of rajah silk, with trimmings of embroidery, to the most elaborately hand-embroidered and beaded chiffon or marquisette party frock. The showing is most complete in every respect. There are Lingerie Dresses, Foulard, Messaline, Rajah, Taffeta and Marquisette Dresses, one prettier and more attractive than the other. You really cannot afford to select your dress for the coming Spring season without seeing this remarkable exhibit of styles. Priced, $14.75 to $65.00.

Confirmation Dresses, $3.98 to $25.00

WE have, as in every other line, made thorough preparations for an extensive line of Children's White Party and Confirmation Dresses. There are simple little Dresses, with trimmings solely of pin tucks and plaits, as well as the finest handmade and hand-embroidered little frocks, each one attractive and cleverly designed for the little girl. Whether you use your own taste for selection or allow the little ones to choose those which most appeal to them, they are bound to decide on one of the many we are showing. Priced, $3.98 to $25.

Girls' Coats, Priced, $4.95 to $24.75

PRETTY, plain and practical, are some of the words needed to describe the Children's New Coats. They come in sizes 6 to 14 years; made of serge, worsted, mannish cloths, tweeds and fancy mixtures, with the most attractive little touches of contrasting material or braid here and there. The colors are tan, scarlet, blues, grays, checks, etc. Priced, $4.95 to $24.75.

RHEUMATISM CANNOT EXIST

In the human body if you will use Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout. It is ridiculous, absurd and preposterous. In fact it is a pity and a shame to talk about rheumatism and gout, much less suffer with it, either inflammatory, muscular, sciatic or any other form of rheumatism. Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout sells for $1.50 or six for $7.50. This prescription does not ruin the stomach, it does not depress the heart. Eat all the meat and good food you wish while taking Trunk's Prescription. It does not contain any mercury, salicylate of soda, oil of wintergreen or narcotics of any kind, but it absolutely and positively overcomes any kind of rheumatism or gout on earth. What more do you want? There is nothing just as good, and it is impossible to get something better. It is also an excellent liver medicine.

HOME TO COST $30,000

Robert S. Brookings to Have Residence Near University.

The contract has been let by Robert S. Brookings for his new home costing $30,000, to be erected on a plot adjoining Washington University. Brookings, who is president of the university corporation, reserved the site for the residence when he gave a tract of land to the school.

The house will be two stories, and will contain 14 rooms. By a unique interior arrangement, all of the living rooms required by Brookings will be on the first floor. The plans provide for a large hall, but no parlor or reception room. A wide corridor extends almost the entire length of the building, and will be used as a picture gallery. The garage will be in the basement.

HOWE TRACTION BILL FOUGHT BY BUSINESS BODIES

Objectors Tell Promoter to Wait Until Free Bridge Is Finished.

RULES FOR USE NEEDED

Speaker for Bill Clashes With Frank Gerhart, Calling Him Busybody.

That rules governing traffic over the free bridge should be fixed before franchises are granted for its use, was the principal argument made against the bill giving a franchise to the Southern Traction Co. of Illinois, at a public hearing Thursday afternoon before the Council Committee on Railroads.

It was also contended by the bill's opponents that not enough signatures of property owners had been obtained to authorize the use of the St. Louis streets over which the company desires to run. It was strongly intimated by the speakers that if a franchise is granted on the present signatures, the validity of the grant will be attacked in court.

"It is of vital importance that the regulations governing the bridge be made right, tight, and legal, before franchises are granted," declared Attorney Cornelius H. Fauntleroy, representing the Mill Creek Valley Improvement Association.

"The companies that get franchises must accept them subject to these regulations, and cannot complain that the rules are unreasonable or unconstitutional."

Howe Scolds Gerhart.

Jeptha D. Howe, attorney for the traction company and its active promoter, engaged in an angry cross-fire of words with Frank Gerhart. Howe told of making a speech some time ago at the Merchants' Exchange, and said that Gerhart was also heard.

"I object to Mr. Howe going outside of the question at issue to use my name," declared Gerhart.

"You attend to your own business," shouted Howe, pointing his finger at Gerhart.

"You are playing to prejudice, the same as if you were appealing to a petit jury," shouted Gerhart, pounding his fist on the table.

Howe faced Gerhart angrily and said: "If you was not such a busybody and such an everlasting objector, St. Louis would get along better."

Chairman Espenscheid rapped for order, and brought the controversy to an end.

East Side Mayors Heard.

Others who spoke in opposition to the bill were Percy Werner, Ben Schnurmacher, C. M. Cherry, Thomas G. Watts, C. J. Kostuba, James W. Garneau, E. E. Scharff and D. Eltzman. Those who spoke in favor of the bill were Mayors Cook of East St. Louis and Kern of Belleville.

The public hearing will be resumed Friday afternoon.

SCHMOLL FORCED TO QUIT COMMITTEE

Louis Busch Demands to Know Why He Was Not Consulted.

Following charges of gross irregularities in the Thirteenth Ward primary election, the resignation of John Schmoll as committeeman from that ward has been demanded by Louis Busch, who, on the face of the returns, was defeated for the House of Delegates nomination by Jacob F. Leindecker.

Fearing the effect of the Busch opposition, friends of Leindecker induced him to withdraw, the Republican City Committee selecting Charles E. Mohrstadt to take his place. Mohrstadt is a coal dealer.

In a letter to Committeeman Schmoll Friday, Busch prepounds 21 questions bearing on the recent primary election and the action of the City Committee in choosing Mohrstadt without consulting Busch or his friends.

Among other questions put to Schmoll is this:

"How is it that after you found out you had made such a failure of your candidate, Leindecker, and had him to resign, that I was never consulted, no more than if I was a dog, about who should be named as nominee of the party?"

Busch was the choice of the progressive Republicans in the Thirteenth Ward.

VISITS HIS BAD STOMACH

Man Curious to See Organ Cut Out a Year Ago.

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—B. J. Sykes of Cardston, Alberta, Canada, visited his stomach today at the American Stomach Hospital here.

"I hadn't seen it for a year," said Sykes. "It gave me lots of trouble while I had it and I have got along well enough since. I once had a personal interest in my stomach, and I wanted to see it in a glass bottle. If I had kept it I would have been dead long ago."

The doctors a year ago gave Sykes one month to live and told him he had about one chance in a hundred of surviving an operation. He took the chance. Now he enjoys three square meals a day.

WATCH BACK BUT MYSTERY OF LOSS IS STILL UNSOLVED

Timepiece Disappeared 5 Years Ago While Owner Was in Tub at Bath House.

ARREST AND SUIT OVER IT

Proprietor of Baths Spent $400 in Defense and Bather Nearly as Much.

The mystery of a gold watch lost five years ago in a bath house, for the loss of which the owner of the bath was arrested, acquitted and afterward unsuccessfully sued in the Circuit Court, ended Friday noon, when the watch was returned as mysteriously as it disappeared.

To defend himself against the accusation of having embezzled the watch, the owner of the bath spent $400 court costs and lawyers' fees. The owner of the watch spent nearly the same amount.

Aug. 24, 1906, Jacob Friedman of 16 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, went to the bath kept by Isaac Koslovsky, 1020 High street, St. Louis. Before going into the tub he gave the owner $8 and his gold watch, worth $100, to hold for him. When he came out of the bath Koslovsky handed him his $8.

Given to Another Man.

"Where is my watch?" asked Friedman.

"You gave me no watch," answered Koslovsky. "I had a watch here like the one you describe, but it was handed to me by another man and I returned it to him when he came from his bath."

He had Koslovsky arrested. The case was tried in the Criminal Court and Koslovsky was acquitted. Then Friedman sued him in the Circuit Court to recover the value of the watch and again Koslovsky won.

Last November Koslovsky received a letter from New Orleans addressed to Isaac Cogloze. It said: "If you will write me I think I can give you valuable information if you are the party who kept the bath house on High street when a gold watch disappeared in 1906."

Advised to Find Owner.

Koslovsky answered and a correspondence followed which resulted in the watch being returned to him by express Friday.

Koslovsky closed his bath house. He lives at 1231 South Fourteenth street. He took the watch to the police and they advised him to find Friedman and return it to him, which he will try to do.

The package from New Orleans containing the watch was sent by G. Adams, 411 St. Peter street. How he got the watch is not known.

MARSHALLS DROP TAXICAB END OF LIVERY BUSINESS

Retire From St. Louis Company and Will Devote Time to Former Enterprise.

J. D. Marshall and M. H. Marshall have sold their stock in the St. Louis Taxicab Co. and have retired from the management of that concern. J. D. Marshall was president of the firm, and his brother was vice-president. They said Friday that they expect to confine their attention in the future to the livery business, the Keyes-Marshall Bros. Livery Co.

Olivar Shiras becomes the new president of the taxicab company. He formerly was treasurer. He took charge of the office Wednesday, succeeding Marshall, and immediately notified J. E. Stewart to take charge of the offices and garage at Twelfth and Chestnut streets as general manager. Stewart has been an employe of the company since its organization.

J. D. Marshall said Friday to a Post-Dispatch reporter:

"From an experience of less than a year in the gasoline end of the livery business, I am convinced that there is as much money to be made in hiring horses. In the future I expect to be in the livery business with horses only as the motive power."

The Marshall brothers bought stock in the taxicab business several months ago, and took charge of the managing offices, believing that both horses and automobiles could be used to advantage in connection with the livery business.

LINLEY FUNERAL IN EAST

Services Will Be Held Here Before Body Goes to New York.

The body of Ezra H. Linley will be taken to New York for interment in Greenwood Cemetery. There will be services in St. Louis at St. Peter's Church.

Linley was 70 years old. He died Thursday night at his residence, 3760 Lindell boulevard, after an illness of two and a half years. Forty years ago he established the E. H. Linley Supply Co., of which he was president. He is survived by a widow.

HIGH RENTS DO THINGS.

Owning its building and escaping tremendous rents, the Globe offers you a spring suit for 10.90 that others must ask $15 for, to meet their higher expenses.

WITNESSES TELL HOW DESPAIR LED MOTHER TO KILL

ALBANY, N. Y., March 10.—The prosecution continued efforts today to prove that Mrs. Edith Melber on Jan. 6 last killed her 5-year-old son George by giving him carbolic acid in a lonely swamp in the outskirts of Albany.

Six witnesses were sworn and District Attorney Sanford expected today to get before the jury the confession made by Mrs. Melber to the Rochester police following her arrest in that city.

Mrs. Melber exhibits little concern in the evidence that is being produced against her.

That Mrs. Melber's husband died in the poorhouse; that a child was born to her there; that no attention was paid to them, and that no aid was given them in getting out of the poorhouse, were facts brought out during the cross-examination by the defense.

Mrs. Mary Smith, a grand-aunt of the boy, testified that Mrs. Melber had tried to place the child in an institution, but that the authorities had refused to accept him. Then she asked Mrs. Smith to take him. The witness said her husband wanted to adopt the child, but Mrs. Melber would not permit legal adoption.

When the accused woman left the house with the boy, she said:

"Don't be surprised if you hear that I have committed suicide." When she returned she said she had placed the child in a home.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I suffered for five years from female ailments and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me, and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as hot flashes, faintness, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

Dozens of styles made to sell at $20 and $25, for $12.50

Sizes for girls of 14, 16 and 18 years and plenty of each size.

IF your daughter needs a new Coat this is a splendid opportunity to get it and save about half the cost! These smart, stylish, practical Coats composed the samples of E. J. Wile & Co., 160 Fifth Av.; a firm noted for fine workmanship and clever styles. They're all full-length models; many with sailor collars, some plain, others trimmed with braid or moire in self or contrasting colors. Materials are plain blue, black or tan serges, hair line worsteds and rich imported mixtures. Some are lined throughout, some half lined, other yoke lined with peau de cygne or pongee. Small women will find these Coats not too girlish for their own use, and can be fitted perfectly.

"SAPHO" CLOSES BERNHARDT STAY AT THE OLYMPIC

An Admirable Performance of Daudet Drama Constitutes Final Offering.

"CAMILLE'S" ANTITHESIS

Fanny Legrand's Selfishness the Dominant Note of an Evil Woman-Soul.

BY RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS.

SARAH BERNHARDT'S engagement at the Olympic Theater was terminated Thursday with a matinee performance of "L'Aiglon," which had already been seen on Monday night, and an evening presentation of "Sapho," the play made from Alphonse Daudet's searching novel of the same title.

The Fanny Legrand of "Sapho," like the Marguerite Gautier of "La Dame aux Camellias"—which the English-speaking stage knows as "Camille"—is a woman of the world's worser half, and, superficially, there is a class kinship of mood and impulse between the two.

But the resemblance ends with the surface gayety and the reckless craving for pleasurable excitement that sweeps Marguerite and Fanny alike in wanton companionship along the unwholesome way of their chosen traveling.

Though inherently selfish as are both women, faithful to type, selfishness does not sound the keynote of Camille's being. Love, capable of an infinite sacrifice, touches this master-chord instead.

Confronted with the necessity of making a choice that shall enable her still to retain Armand Duval as her lover, at the cost of his own ultimate happiness, or that shall send him away from her to a cleansing association with good women and honorable men, leaving her desolate, Camille accomplishes a splendid renunciation and then, heart-broken, goes lonely to her own pitiful end.

Fanny Legrand, however, makes of Jean Gaussin a victim for her utter despoiling, and, at the moment of his complete and irremediable ruin, casts him aside that she, safely, may attain whatever measure of security and smug happiness is possible to her blood-cooled age through becoming the wife of Flamant, father of her illegitimate child.

It does not matter to her that her abandonment of Jean leaves him bereft of the one great, even though ignoble love for which he had given up all that was better worth the having in life. A supreme selfishness controls her action now, as ever. She sees only her own advantage, not Jean's good, and, with a burnt-out kiss of courtesan hypocrisy implanted on his lips as he lies sleeping, she goes her consistent way of self, relentless to the last.

It was this Fanny Legrand whom the Olympic audience of Thursday night beheld in the Sapho of Bernhardt's playing. The line of soul-divergence between such a woman and the Camille of Mme. Bernhardt's picturing on Tuesday evening was drawn with that clarity of interpretation that makes Bernhardt's work in drama so unfailing a delight.

Appearing, in all likelihood for the last time, before a St. Louis audience, the great French actress seemed at her best, despite the exacting demands of "L'Aiglon" earlier in the day, finishing, with sure and skillful strokes, the final portrait of the stately gallery of stage portraits which she has painted for St. Louis eyes during the many years covered by her several American tours.

Her parting achievement met with grateful appreciation. The close of each of the play's five acts was marked with fervent and prolonged applause of the utmost genuineness. At the moment of her actual farewell to St. Louis great masses of flowers went to her across the footlights. She received them with manifestations of sincere regard. As she bowed her good-by thanks, the audience arose and stood, applauding. One may not but believe that this scene constitutes the last of which Sarah Bernhardt shall be the central figure in a St. Louis playhouse.

The support of Mme. Bernhardt by her admirable company was again a revelation of the best in drama. Conspicuously excellent was the performance of young M. Tellegen as Jean Gaussin, of M. Decoeur as Uncle Cesaire, of M. Maxudian as Dechelette, M. Denenbourg as Caoudal, Mme. Desroches as Divonne, Mme. Duc as Irene and Mme. Boulanger as Mme. Hettema. The work of the company was so good as a whole, however, that a special mention of special artists seems unjust. The engagement in its completeness has been a great teaching of the possibilities of worthy stage art.

LOST EXPLORING A CAVE

Man, Wife and Friend Nearly Starved When Rescued.

LURAY, Va., March 10.—James Silvus, his wife and a friend, Dick Fawley, several days ago explored the famous Luray cave and then, borrowing a lantern, descended into one of the numerous other caves nearby. They lost their way, the lantern went out and for hours they were without food.

Two boys, alarmed because the lantern had not been returned, went in search. The explorers were found half starved and calmly awaiting death. They were in a pitiful condition when rescued.

FIREMEN ENTERTAINED

Two Companies Receive Their Friends at Engine House.

The firemen of Engine Company No. 38 and Hook and Ladder Company No. 16 enjoyed an entertainment given in their headquarters, 3500 South Grand avenue, Wednesday evening by their families and friends.

Chief Yeoman Polland of the navy gave a lecture, illustrated with stereopticon views, of a journey around the world in a battleship. Edward J. Kinney gave an illustrated lecture on the lives of fire fighters, with views of some big St. Louis fires.

Professor Kills a Doctor.

TENNILE, Ga., March 10.—Dr. T. J. Kelly was shot and killed yesterday by Nathan J. Johnson, superintendent of Tennile Institute. The disciplining of Dr. Kelly's son at the institute, it is said, led to the tragedy. Prof. Johnson was arrested.

PASSES WORTHLESS CHECK

Shoeworker, Out of Employment, Is Arrested.

John W. Molitor, 6158 Page avenue, a shoeworker, was arrested Thursday night in Clayton on a charge of passing a worthless check for $13.50 on Samuel Smith, a grocer, at Hamburger and Oak avenues in Page Avenue Heights.

Molitor got $3 worth of groceries and received $10.50 cash. He has been out of work several months, and has four children.

Washington State Troops in Readiness.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 10.—All the enlisted men of the National Guard who could be reached by telephone received instructions last night to hold themselves in readiness to report for duty immediately upon receiving the call.

This action was taken following the receipt by the adjutant-general's office of a telegram, presumably from Washington, the contents of which was not disclosed.

SYNDICATE WANTS GOULDS TO QUIT MISSOURI PACIFIC

Activity of Frank J. Gould Resented by Rockefeller and Kuhn, Loeb.

ELECTION HITCH FEARED

New Names Are Brought Forward in Attempt to Find President for Road.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Wall street heard a report today that there has been a hitch in the program for the annual meeting of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, to be held next Tuesday in St. Louis.

According to this story, Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and the Rockefeller interests object to the activity of Frank J. Gould and Middendorf, Williams & Co., his bankers, of Baltimore, who are seeking proxies for the purpose of attempting to elect a member of the board to represent Gould individually. The banking firm has issued a letter disclaiming any intention whatever to seek control of the new property or to cause any embarrassment to George J. Gould and his new banking allies. They claim the right, however, to attempt to obtain representation.

The stipulations signed 10 days ago between George J. Gould and the Rockefeller-Kuhn-Loeb syndicate, call for the retirement of Frank J. Gould as a director. The bankers assert that George J. Gould is in a position to prevent the carrying out of his brother's plan and if he desires to keep faith with his new allies, he should induce Frank to retire from the contest.

This suggestion was made by them to George Gould, who protested that he has no influence over his brother and therefore cannot cause him to withdraw his request for proxies. The other members of the Gould family will cast their votes with George J. Gould and the banking syndicate, who have an overwhelming majority.

The selection of a successor to George J. Gould as president of the Missouri Pacific still is undecided. Among the names mentioned now are those of Julius Kruttschmitt, vice-president of the Union Pacific; F. A. Delano, president of the Wabash, and J. W. Kendrick, vice-president of the Atchison. F. D. Underwood of the Erie is said to have declined to be considered a possibility.

ESCAPES ON SHEET ROPE

Boy Slides From Window of Industrial School.

Louis Davis, aged 10, tied two bed sheets together, fastened one end to a bedpost on the second-floor dormitory at the Industrial School, threw the other end out of the window and slid to the ground.

He was clad only in his night gown when he escaped at 8 p. m. Thursday. John W. Major, superintendent, learned of the escape an hour later and notified the police. Louis is the son of Mrs. Bessie Davis of 808 Carr street.

BALDWIN TO SEEK POLE

Is in California to Prepare for 1913 Dash.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Capt. Evelyn Briggs Baldwin of New York, who has been associated with both Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary and Dr. Frederick Cook in Arctic explorations, is here to make preliminary preparations for a polar expedition planned for 1913.

Capt. Baldwin's plan is to sail to the Arctic from this coast and seek the pole, as Nansen did, by taking advantage of the movements of the ice packs.

MRS. FRANK P. HAYS entertained informally at luncheon Friday afternoon at her Washington terrace home. Mrs. Hays plans a series of lenten luncheons every Friday for several weeks.

The musical entertainment for the benefit of the German Protestant Orphans' Home, at the Odeon, Friday evening, at 8:15 and Saturday matinee at 2:15, promises to be of much interest.

Miss Charlotte Nugent and Miss Pauline Jones will be soloists in two numbers. The children of the home will be seen in a school scene from "Babes in Toyland." They have been trained by Mrs. C. C. Hardcastle.

The committee on arrangements is as follows: Herman C. Kraleman, chairman; Julius F. Reinke, secretary; William G. Mueller, George C. Diederich, F. W. Wrieden, J. H. Heltmann and Ernst Moeller.

A lecture entitled "Through Africa With Roosevelt" was given by T. Alden Loving under the auspices of the Entertainment Committee of the St. Louis Woman's Club Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Flonzaley Quartet will give its second concert at the Wednesday Club auditorium Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock. The quartet is composed of Adolfo Betti, Alfred Pochon, Ugo Ava and Juan d'Archambeau.

Mrs. Elizabeth Maltbie of Washington boulevard is spending several weeks in Dallas, Tex., with relatives.

Capt. and Mrs. George F. Shields are in Hot Springs, Ark., where they will remain several weeks.

Mrs. John Temple Graves of New York, who has been the guest of Mrs. E. E. Magill of Lenox place, departed Monday for her home.

Miss Mildred McCluney is spending several weeks with friends in Savannah, Ga.

Mrs. Robert Stuart of 4368 Lindell boulevard will return this week from Ormond, Fla.

Members of the College Club announce that the net receipts of the scholarship benefit at the Olympic Theater, Jan. 31, were $1521.24.

Mrs. Melville W. Abell of the Southern Hotel will depart the latter part of the week for a two weeks' visit to Kentucky.

Mrs. Jack Lindsay of San Francisco, Cal., has returned from a visit to Mrs. Charlie Herb of Alton. Mrs. Lindsay will be the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. P. Shipman of Compton Heights, for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krossman returned to their home in New Orleans, after visiting sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Sig. J. Lang, of McPherson avenue.

No More Appendicitis, Gall Stones or Nervous Stomach

Thousands of sufferers from the worst kinds of stomach and bowel troubles have been immediately relieved and brought back to perfect health by a combination remedy from California. These remedies are Fruitola and Traxo. Fruitola is a vegetable oil preparation that sweeps the system entirely free of congested, obstructing matter that ordinary cathartics do not budge. And Fruitola does this without the least griping—it soothes, strengthens, purifies and builds tissue and nerve fiber. Traxo is a tonic-regulator, restoring appetite, insuring good digestion, regulating the bowels. We know the despondent feeling of the person who has tried everything without success—these we want to reach with Fruitola and Traxo.

Mrs. Trent, 1328 Butler St., Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Fruitola and Traxo. One dose did more for me than anything else I have taken. I advise everyone suffering from Liver, Stomach and Kidney Trouble to give it one trial."

The Rev. John B. Latzner, St. John's University, Collegeville, Minn., says: "I suffered with Gall Stones for 10 years. After the first dose of Fruitola and Traxo my mind became clearer and I had no more painful attacks. I shall not fail to recommend your remedy to all I can."

Mr. A. J. Lothouse, Columbus, State Electrician of Ohio Capitol, writes that he had suffered years with stomach and bowel trouble. Finally he was ordered to the hospital for an operation for appendicitis. A friend induced him to try Fruitola and Traxo first. After two days of treatment he was back at his work instead of in the hospital.

Read many such letters in our free book. Get from under the cloud today. Take Fruitola tonight and follow with Traxo.

Get the booklet and remedies when you buy your medicines. Avoid substitutes. Any druggist can get Fruitola and Traxo, as they are handled by every wholesale drug house. Always insist on Wolff-Wilson Drug Company. If you have difficulty getting booklet or remedies, address Pinus Medicine Co., Los Angeles, Cal.

2,000,000 IN CHINA STARVING; DEAD IN ROADS

Natives Eat the Barks of Trees and Cakes Made of the Leaves.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—More grewsome stories of the horrors of the Chinese famine have reached the State Department from the Consul-General at Shanghai, who sums up conditions at the beginning of February. One traveler reported passing 13 dead bodies in 13 miles on the road.

The missionaries tell of the natives eating cakes made of leaves and stems mixed with millet chaff, which they buy with the allowance of the Government of 3 cents apiece. The trees had been stripped of bark, which had been eaten.

Dr. Cochrane, an American Presbyterian Missionary, said that in the whole afflicted region there were 2,000,000 starving persons. In one village of a hundred families, one-third were dead of hunger and pestilence.

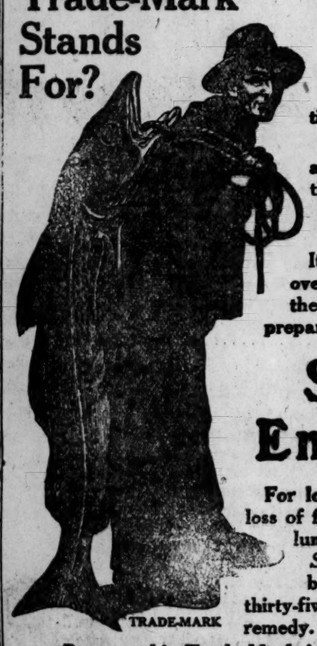

Snow was falling, and many were without proper shelter or clothing.

The missionaries have attacked the work of relief with the greatest system and directness. The families in the Province of Puchow, for instance, were divided into four classes and enumerated with this result:

Those who had plenty numbered 17,995; those who could exist till harvest on what grain they had, 209,937; those who had little grain, but would be in need before the end of February, 156,301, and those really destitute, in need of immediate relief, 197,681.

One thousand dollars raised by the Chinese Relief Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Cincinnati was cabled to Shanghai by the American Red Cross. The Cincinnati Relief Committee previously collected a large supply of provisions now en route to China on the army transport Buford.

CHIEF ENGINEERS ARE TOLD HOW TO ABATE THE SMOKE

Professor Says Chain Grates Are Needed Where Soft Coal Is Used.

Fifteen chief engineers of some of the largest coal-using concerns in St. Louis attended the lecture of Prof. S. W. Parr on "Coal and Combustion," Thursday night at the Railroad Y. M. C. A., Twentieth and Eugenia streets. The engineers said that most of the firms mentioned as violators of the smoke laws are in sympathy with the smoke abatement movement, and desire to find a practical way of ridding the city of the smoke nuisance.

Prof. Parr is professor of applied chemistry at the University of Illinois. He told his audience that the only way to abate smoke from soft coal here is to use a chain grate and tile arches.

How the Chains Work.

As explained by Prof. Parr, the chain grate is made of chains, which keep turning like a treadmill, continuously throwing off at one end of the furnace the burnt coals which have become ashes. This does away with open doors and shuts off air, which, he said, is conducive to smoke.

The arched tiles cause double combustion while the grate is turning, he said, by throwing the heat on the coals instead of letting it pass through the chimney.

"Illinois coal is very productive of smoke," he declared. "The prosecutors of St. Louis plants should be lenient with engineers and firemen, because smoke is not caused so much by man's inefficiency as by the lack of proper arrangements in the furnaces and heaters."

The women who are aiding in the anti-smoke movement, and members of the Wednesday Club, were criticised as smoke ordinance violators, at the meeting of the Incitation Club of Steam Engineers Thursday night at the Planters Hotel.

"The kitchen stoves and furnaces in the homes of many members of the Wednesday Club emit more smoke than many downtown office buildings," declared J. P. McDonough, business agent of the organization.

Several members said that the present smoke ordinances were all right, but that the inspection system is faulty. It was suggested that if practical engineers were universally employed, the number of smoke violations would be smaller.

BRIDE WANTS A DIVORCE

Among Other Things She Says He Chased Her With Gun.

Mrs. Eureka Wilson of East St. Louis in her divorce suit filed Thursday at Belleville, charges Charles Wilson with cruelty, drunkenness, infidelity, nonsupport and desertion.

Mrs. Wilson says her husband is lazy and will not work but complains that he showed great energy one day in chasing her with a shotgun and on another occasion throwing her through a first-floor window for a fall of four feet. They were married April, 1910.

WIFE AIDED HUSBAND DIG FOR GHOST GOLD

She Begs at City Hospital for His Release From the Observation Ward.

Philipp Pizzo, 37 years old, of 408 South Sixteenth street, who dug for gold in his cellar four nights the last two weeks as directed, he said, by a headless ghost, is in the observation ward of the city hospital. His wife, Virginia Pizzo, visited the hospital Friday and begged that her husband be released. She told the attendants that she, too, saw the ghost on its nocturnal visits and aided her husband in searching for treasure.

Pizzo's search for wealth was interrupted by policemen who saw the gleam of a lantern in the cellar at midnight Thursday. Pizzo had dug four feet.

DINNER TO NEGRO GUEST POSTPONED BY LONDON CLUB

American Members of the Lyceum Threaten to Resign if Banquet Is Held.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1911, by Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

LONDON, March 10.—The Lyceum Club, the headquarters of English women novelists, doctors, suffragettes and the pseudo-learned, has been deeply agitated by the color question.

The club has a weekly banquet at which some distinguished guest is present. For the dinner arranged to be given March 27, the club selected as the principal guest Dr. William Edward Burghardt Dubois, the negro professor of sociology in Atlanta University. Invited to meet him are Sir John Cockburn, a former Premier of South Australia; Sir Arthur Downes, one of London's poor law inspectors; Maurice Hewlett, a novelist; Sir Percy Bunting, the editor of The Contemporary Review; Sir Edward Bradock, ex-chief registrar of Friendly Societies; Henry Nevinson, a prominent publicist, and Elizabeth Robins, novelist and actress, who was born in Louisville, Ky.

Some knew of Dr. Dubois' color, others did not. When the fact came to the ears of an American member of the club the trouble began. The American members made the strongest representations to the organizers of the banquet. They argued that the mere fact that a negro, no matter how distinguished, had been entertained by a number of distinguished people of a London club would react in America and undoubtedly would have a bad effect.

The club first took high ground, holding that Dr. Dubois was a distinguished educationalist, worthy to sit with cultured elect, no matter what their color. But when the American members threatened to resign in a body if Dr. Dubois was entertained, the organizers changed their tone. The guests were informed that an unexpected hitch had arisen, and now it is announced that the banquet has been postponed, a polite way of saying that it never will be held.

CORSET FACTORY WANTS SITE FOR A BRANCH HERE

Kalamazoo Firm Will Employ 500 Persons if It Locates in St. Louis.

The Kalamazoo Corset Co. is negotiating for a branch factory site in St. Louis, according to Charles S. Gay, resident manager. The factory here will employ about 500 persons.

"Our Southwestern business has increased so rapidly that we have to enlarge our manufacturing facilities," said Gay. "St. Louis offers all the requirements. We are employing 1500 people at our Kalamazoo factory.

"The president of the company, J. H. Hatfield, will be in St. Louis in a few days to look over proposed sites. We have had a branch office here for 10 years, but we need a branch factory. Our factory in Kalamazoo is a five-story building, covering a block."

Rheumatism Cured

Sloan's Liniment is a powerful penetrant, goes to the seat of the pain at once, and gives quick relief for any kind of rheumatism.

HERE'S PROOF.

MRS. MARGUERITE RAU, 634 Franklin Street, York, Pa., writes: "About ten weeks ago a sudden pain came in my right arm. The doctor called it inflammatory rheumatism. My arm was swollen and was black and blue. I doctored for seven weeks, but the pain was so bad I could not sleep. At last I tried your liniment, and the swelling has all gone down, and it isn't black and blue any more. Sloan's Liniment has helped me more than all the doctoring I ever did."

MISS ANNIE KNORR, of 811 Closson Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y., writes: "My mother had rheumatism so badly that she could not sleep at night, and cried from pain. She tried Sloan's Liniment. After using it for one week, she felt better and could sleep at night and she continued to use it and is cured."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is a safe and speedy remedy for toothache, neuralgia, sciatica, sore throat and sprains.

At all dealers. Price, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00.

SUES TO VOID DEED MADE OUT TO WIFE

Husband Says She Never Kept Promise to Live With Him.

George P. Uhl, a brick contractor of Belleville, Ill., filed suit in the Circuit Court at Belleville Friday morning against Hulda M. Uhl to have set aside a deed to a piece of property on Portland avenue valued at $4000.

The Uhls were married June 24, 1904, and separated March 15, 1907. At that time, under agreement, he paid $500 to Mrs. Uhl for her interest in the property, and the lot was to be held in trust for his use, he says.

They were reconciled in April, 1907, after agreeing to return the $500 and get a title to the lot. He made out the title in her favor and he now contends that she left him again Oct. 15 and came to St. Louis to live. He asks that the deed be set aside.

ST. LOUIS COURTS BILL WILL PASS SENATE TUESDAY

Its Sponsors Sure They Have Enough Votes to Put Measure Through.

CHANGE IN HOUSE, TOO

Members There Who Opposed Engrossment Declare They Will Vote for Bill Now.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 10.—The St. Louis Municipal Courts bill will be taken up for final passage in the Senate Tuesday at 11 a. m. This decision was reported at noon today after arguments in opposition to the bill had been made by Senator A. E. L. Gardner of St. Louis County and Senator Alroy S. Phillips of St. Louis. Senator McAllister, who introduced the bill, and is urging its passage by the Senate, said after the motion to make the bill a special order for Tuesday had been passed, that there was no question about the passage in the Senate.

The Republicans from St. Louis have succeeded in making the other Republicans believe the bill is a political one and that it is against the interests of the Republican party in St. Louis for it to become a law, and the entire minority side of the Senate is fighting the bill.

Bill Not In Danger.

There will be a few Democrats vote with the Republicans, but the bill is not believed to be in any danger in the Senate. When the bill passes the Senate it will go to the House for the concurrence of that body. Although the bill was defeated for engrossment in the House by nearly twenty votes, Representative Hull of Platte County, who is it's sponsor there, says he has found a pronounced change of sentiment, and that he believes when it is placed on its final passage in the House it will have a sufficient number of votes.

The St. Louis members of the House, all Republicans, have abandoned nearly every other measure in their efforts to stem the tide of votes which is changing. After the failure of the bill for engrossment the Republicans felt so sure that it was buried that for a time they neglected to cultivate the country members, and on the game bill and several other measures voted in opposition to the desires of many members from the country. These members, many of whom opposed the municipal courts bill for engrossment, are now declaring that they favor it and will vote for it.

The bill will go to the House Wednesday if the Senate passes it Tuesday, and may come up for final passage in the House Wednesday.

Senator Alroy S. Phillips, a young St. Louis member of the General Assembly, began an argument against the bill today with the statement: "The indorsement of this bill by the St. Louis Bar Association is not worth the paper it is written on."

He did not explain his statement further, but discussed the bill largely from a constitutional standpoint. He violated the general practice of the Senate by refusing to answer questions which Senators McAllister, Buford and others asked him.

The bill came up for final passage in the Senate shortly before noon. Senator McAllister explained the bill briefly, telling of the abuses in the Justice of the Peace courts in St. Louis. He was followed by Phillips.

In refusing to answer questions, Phillips said:

"I will not be interrogated, I want to make a speech and I am going to make it."

Senator A. E. L. Gardner of St. Louis, another Republican, opposed the bill. His argument was devoted to a great extent to the line that the Senate should vote against the bill because the members from St. Louis were opposed to it.

WAY PAVED FOR NEW INSURANCE HEARING

Court Mandate Empowering Testimony About Gardner Company Is Filed.

The mandate of the Missouri Supreme Court authorizing receivership proceedings in the case of the Continental Insurance Co., was formally placed on record in the Circuit Court Friday.

This empowers Attorney Matt G. Reynolds to administer the company's affairs as receiver and to take testimony as to the conduct of the company's officers.

Judge Withrow appointed Reynolds receiver, but Harry B. Gardner, Grant Gillespie and W. H. Thompson, officers of the company, appealed to the Supreme Court.

Attorneys Henderson, Marshall and Becker asked the Supreme Court to ignore the appeal on the ground that Gardner, Gillespie and Thompson did not represent the company.

Judge Woodson's decision sustaining the receivership was handed down Dec. 17 and its substance was published in the Post-Dispatch at that time.

GIRLS AND MEN JOY RIDERS FINED

They Land in Police Station After Losing Tire Off the Auto.

Two 19-year-old girls and three young men wound up an all-night joy ride in the Dayton Street Police Court Friday. They had run one tire off their automobile before Patrolmen Hines and Lay, who had been chasing them about the streets of North St. Louis, finally caught them, at 5:15 a. m., on North Grand avenue between St. Louis avenue and North Market street.

The joy-riding party gave these names and addresses: Ethel Baugus, 2204 Dickson street; Mrs. Vivien Smith, 3010 North Market street; Ross Mester, 24 years, 1024 East Park place; Barney Berrie, 20 years, 179 Von Versen avenue, and William Klauberg, 24 years old, 909 S. Broadway.

Klauberg was discharged because the policemen said they had not noticed him shouting. The two girls and Berrie, however, were fined $10 each for disturbing the peace. Mester, who said he was in the employ of an automobile company, was fined $100 for exceeding the speed limits.

The girls said they had been to a dance at Cave Hall, Olive and Twenty-ninth streets, and that from there they went to Hildenbrandt's restaurant, Washington and Jefferson avenues, where they met the young men.

Wake Up With a "Dark Brown Taste?"

Get Rid of It! Run for OLIVE TABLETS

There isn't the slightest need to wake up any morning with a "brown mouth." Ugh! No need to describe it.

Dr. Edwards has made "brown mouth" a thing of the past in thousands of homes with his little Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver and bowels, never has "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a pimply face, constipation or any other form of bowel or liver disorder.

Take one just the moment you suspect you are constipated or that your liver is out of order.

Thousands take one at bedtime every night just to keep the bowels regular, the liver in order, the mouth clean and the breath pure and sweet.

The olive oil in these little tablets—a natural laxative in itself—makes them healing, soothing and strengthening.

Dr. Edwards spent 17 years in practice and in laboratory experiments before he perfected Olive Tablets.

Why don't you try them instead of the severe kind of laxatives that gripe and only effect temporary relief?

At all drug stores in neat pocket packages. 15 tablets for 10c, 45 tablets for 25c.

Made by the Olive Tablet Company, Portsmouth, Ohio. Dr. F. M. Edwards, President. (30)

COAT COLLAR WHITE WITH DANDRUFF

Scalp Badly Affected. Itched Terribly, Hair Fell Out. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now Has Thick Growth of Hair and Is Never Troubled with Any Dandruff or Itching of Scalp.

"I am more than gratified by the successful results I obtained by the use of the Cuticura Remedies. For several years my scalp was very badly affected with dandruff and scales. My scalp itched terribly at times and my hair fell out. My coat collar would be actually white with the dandruff that had fallen from my head. My profession being that of a barber, I was particular about having my hair in good condition, and also in a position to try many lotions, etc., for the scalp. These had little or no effect. I had heard so much about the Cuticura Remedies that I resolved to try them. I shampooed my head with Cuticura Soap twice a week and after drying my head thoroughly, I anointed parts of my scalp with Cuticura Ointment. I was pleased from the outset, and continued to keep up this treatment. To think that only three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one and one-half boxes of Cuticura Ointment rid my head of this annoying trouble, made me feel quite contented. I have now got a thick growth of hair and I am never troubled with any dandruff or itching of the scalp. There is no question but that the Cuticura Remedies cured me. I frequently recommend them to my customers, and they think a great deal of them, so you see I am very willing to help a good cause along." (Signed) John F. Williams, 307 Norfolk Street, Dorchester, Boston, Mass., July 28, 1910.

On Saturday We Announce An Inaugural Exhibit & General Review of the Newest Fancies in

CORRECT MALE APPAREL FOR SPRING 1911

Our entire 40 years' experience in successfully clothing the best dressed male population of this community is crystallized in this magnificent clothes exposition. For 40 years Famous has been known as St. Louis' foremost clothes store, & this season our supremacy is more firmly than ever established. You, as a citizen of this splendid city—you, as a patron of this splendid institution, must feel a certain personal pride in our brilliant achievements. The people of St. Louis have long ago recognized the manifold advantages of supplying their clothes needs at Famous. The magnitude of our stocks—the extent of our assortments, which are fully three times as large & much more varied than any other local store can show—the marked superiority of our values, made possible only because of our mighty purchasing power—are potent factors which thinking men cannot afford to ignore. Attend this Spring opening exhibit Saturday. The moment you step foot on our clothing floor you will readily concede our pre-eminence as clothes providers for men, young men & boys.

Spring Overcoats & Raincoats

Now is the time when the medium-weight overgarment can best serve its purpose—the weather is a little too mild for the heavy overcoat, & yet not mild enough to discard an overgarment entirely. Our new lines of men's & young men's Spring Overcoats & Raincoats are now grandly complete. Coats built of the very best all-wool fabrics, in the new shades of tan & gray, the always dressy blacks & an extensive assortment of novelty patterns—the style range includes everything that's new & proper for Spring, 1911. Nowhere in the West can you duplicate the generous values Famous offers at..... $10 to $35

Men's Spring Suits at $25.00 to $40.00

Apparel that reflects the uppermost accomplishments of America's most gifted clothes builders—the products of Rogers, Peet & Co., of New York, Hirsch-Wickwire Co., of Chicago, & other eminent makers—clothes that are on an equal plane with, & in many instances superior to, the best efforts of the most exclusive custom tailors. Clothes ready for service now, doing away with vexatious delays & subsequent disappointments—all this Spring's newest fabrics, patterns & colorings are included in these magnificent lines. Custom tailor enthusiasts are especially urged to inspect this extraordinary apparel ..... $25 to $40

Our Men's Spring Suits at $15.00 & $20.00

MOTHER FORGIVES MAN WHO KILLED SON BY ACCIDENT

"I Have Had Enough Trouble Without Making More Trouble for Others," Says Woman Heartbroken by Loss of Boy, Her Third Family Calamity.

"WHY DID I DO IT?" THE SLAYER GROANS

Frank E. Norton, Called by Woman Who Saw Object in Weeds, Fired Five Shots and Found Frank Sanborn Dying From Wound.

Mrs. Charles Sanborn, whose 15-year-old son, Frank, was shot and killed by a neighbor, Frank E. Norton, at Thomas Station, four miles from Wellston, on the St. Charles Rock Road, said Friday that she would not prosecute Norton.

The boy was shot at 5:30 p. m. Thursday, while he was in a vacant lot across the road from Norton's home. Norton says he thought he was firing at some wild animal.

"I have had so much trouble myself that I shall not try to make more trouble for others," said Mrs. Sanborn, in tears, Friday to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "I know Norton did not know he was shooting at my boy. It was an accident. I shall not prosecute him, nor will my husband.

Her Third Calamity.

"I have had more than my share of trouble," she continued as she sat and wrung her hands, the tears running down her cheeks. "My first baby was burned to death. Her clothing took fire while she was playing.

"Last year my Mildred, 6 years old, fell into hot water and was scalded nearly to death. For months she lay between life and death, and is just now recovering.

"And now comes this greatest sorrow of all. My oldest child, my darling boy, is shot down like a wild beast, without a word of warning or a chance for his life. And he was such a bright boy, too. It is almost too much trouble for one person to have.

"It was terribly careless for him to shoot my boy without calling out a warning first, but I guess he is suffering enough today."

Man In Deep Grief.

Norton was arrested after the shooting, and was held at the Page Boulevard Police Station. He walked the floor of his cell Friday, suffering a remorse that showed in his face and his nervously twitching hands. Tears were on his cheeks, and his uncertain eyes seemed to look nowhere.

"Oh, why did I do it? Why didn't I call out first, before I fired?" he would repeat, and then he would turn and walk to the rear of his cell, his hands over his eyes.

"I thought it was some animal I was shooting," he continued. "You know there were all sorts of stories of a wild beast that was killing chickens and dogs in our neighborhood, and when we heard our dog barking wildly at something, and I looked over in the weeds and saw something moving, I just ran upstairs without thought that it might be a person, and raised the window and shot five times.

"Oh, if I could only take it all back I would give my life."

Woman Blames Herself.

Mrs. F. M. Davis, sister-in-law of Norton, at whose home Norton and his wife lived, came to her door Friday morning with her 3-year-old baby in her arms. Her eyes were red with weeping.

"I haven't slept a wink all night. I have walked the floor. It is partly my fault that the poor boy was shot," she said. "It was I who went to the door when I heard the dog barking, and it was I who saw something black moving in the weeds across the road, and it was I who called Norton. It seems now, after it is over, so careless of us all."

Frank Sanborn had been getting a drink at a spring, and was returning to the road when he was shot. His mother said Friday that he asked her at 7:30 p. m. if he might go to the home of Walter Creeley and see how the boys there were getting along with an aeroplane they were building. She did not wish him to go, but he coaxed her and said he could meet his father at the car, and she consented.

Climbing Up Bank.

He met some other boys and played awhile, and then he went for a drink at the spring in a vacant lot. When he was first seen by Mrs. Davis he must have been going to the spring. When he was shot he was climbing through the weeds up the embankment from the spring.

He was twice wounded. A wound behind the right ear was probably the first.

The boy was a caddy at the Normandy Golf Club. His father is a trained nurse. There are five younger children, Beatrice, 12; Willie, 10; Mildred, 6; John, 5 years, and George, 16 months old.

Catlin's Campaign, as Described by Himself

HE spent $551 in his congressional campaign.

He did not know that his father had spent $10,000 for him until after the election.

Each day, before he started out electioneering, he counted his money. He counted it again, what was left in his pocket when he returned at night, and thus kept acount of what he spent.

He made a round of the saloons in his district with different men, campaigning, spending about $1 in each saloon for drinks. In this way he spent $25 one day, and $45 another.

He made the round of the lid clubs and played the piano and sang: "Stick By the Ship, Boys." He said this was the only way he could get in touch with a certain number of voters in the district.

HE visited two church fairs, danced with the girls and spent $2 or $3 in raffles.

He entertained the members of the Eleventh District Congressional Committee in the Catlin home, and his sister, Miss Irene Catlin, helped entertain them.

He did not offer prizes to judges and clerks of election who would get him the largest number of votes.

THERON E. CATLIN.

After his election he took a party of politicians on a trip to West Baden, Ind., and paid all expenses, amounting to $150.

DELAY IN CATLIN HEARING; CLERKS CLAIM MORE PAY

They Hold They Have Been Witnesses Ever Since They Were First Sworn in.

Five witnesses subpenaed to appear before Notary Heidemann Friday to testify in the Gill-Catlin congressional contest failed to appear. The taking of further depositions was postponed till Saturday morning. Catlin testified at length in his own behalf Thursday afternoon.

During a short interval of waiting Friday the claims for witness fees made by men who were sworn in as clerks at the City Hall early in January, to recount the ballots and make copies of the poll books, were discussed. They were afterward called on to testify in the Gill-Catlin contest and are claiming 75 cents a day witness fees for 60 days past, besides their pay as clerks.

When these men appeared to testify some time ago, C. A. Newton, attorney for Catlin, asked that they be sworn as witnesses in the regular way. Peter T. Barrett, attorney for Gill, objected, saying the men had been sworn in as clerks.

The clerks then got together and decided that if they were sworn in as witnesses at the same time they took the oath as clerks they were entitled to fees as witnesses for the entire time, up to the day they testified.

As the time was nearly 60 days, this would amount to $270 as another item of expense in the contest, if their claim is recognized.

ENGLISH HOUSE ON VERGE OF RIOT IN 19-HOUR SESSION

Opponent of Nationalists Offers to Throw Them Out and Arouses Storm.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, March 10.—After a continuous sitting of 19 hours the House of Commons rose at 10 o'clock this morning. A stormy scene marked the session right up to the close.

The entire night was occupied with the discussion of the land clauses of the budget and the debate was the most bitter that has been heard in the lower chamber in 10 years.

Taunts and insults were hurled fast and furiously, anger flared up dangerously and at one moment a riot was threatened when, in the midst of an excited demonstration on the part of the Nationalists, Capt. James Craig, Unionist member for the East Division of Down, sprang to his feet and addressing the chairman, remarked that if the presiding officer would give the word, the opposition would gladly throw the whole Nationalist party out of the House.

This remark drew a hurricane of angry shouts from the Irish benches and it was some time before the chairman was able to restore order. The scenes were similar to those in 1901 when the police were called to quiet the Nationalists.

EVERY HOUSE FOR 5 MILES WRECKED BY POWDER BLAST

Inhabitants Move Away After Explosion Which Causes $1,500,000 Loss.

ONE KILLED, MANY HURT

Spark in Glazing Department Believed to Have Ignited Big Magazines.

SHOCK FELT FROM LAKES TO RIVER

THE explosion in Pleasant Prairie, Wis., was felt from Cleveland, O., on the east to the Mississippi River on the west. Eight thousand kegs of finished giant powder, 25,000 of unfinished giant powder, 150 tons of finished dynamite and 180 tons of unfinished dynamite were exploded.

A hole 100 feet deep was torn in the earth. In Chicago, 55 miles away, hundreds of windows were broken.

PLEASANT PRAIRIE, Wis., March 10.—Hardly a house in the thickly populated farming country in a radius of five miles from here is habitable today, as a result of the explosion last night of five magazines filled with dynamite and black powder at the Dupont de Nemours Power Co. plant. The blast caused a property loss of $1,500,000, and produced a shock felt for more than 100 miles.

E. S. Thompson, a foreman, was killed, one man was seriously injured and several hundred were painfully hurt. The greater number of residents of this village, Bristol and the surrounding country have packed their remaining household goods and moved away, to remain until their homes can be rebuilt. All wear patches and bandages, and many are limping.

There is still at the plant in open shape, liable to instant explosion, enough gunpowder to cause far greater damage than did the blast last night.

The five magazines which exploded contained 150 tons of finished dynamite, 130 tons of dynamite unfinished, 8000 kegs of finished giant powder and 25,000 kegs of unfinished giant powder.

There are eight small cars of dynamite stored on a spur near the plant, according to Sheriff Stahl. The superintendent refused to state the amount of powder in the buildings, but said three wheel mills, one powder building and 20 smaller separate store buildings all contained explosives in some quantity.

Spark Would Cause Blast.

There are still five buildings containing blasting powder needing only a spark to cause an explosion with a repetition of last night's damage, according to Dale Bumstead, superintendent of the Chicago division of the powder company.

Immediately after the superintendent's arrival from Chicago, a guard was thrown more closely about the company's property, and no one is permitted to approach within a mile of the wrecked plant.

Mr. Bumstead said the exact cause of the accident could not be learned. It came in the glazing or finishing room and, according to the superintendent, a spark from a hammer blow or from a broken piece of machinery flying against the wall or floor might have caused the explosion.

In the glazing room, the powder is in the shape of cylinders, and is under the influence of heat. Powder men here say that too high a degree of heat might have caused the blast.

The district school house near the village was wrecked. Of the 45 pupils, all but a half dozen were too badly injured to attend or left with their parents during the night.

Stones Strew Roads.

A steel cylinder thought to have been used in the glazing room, hurled through the air and crashed through the roof of the store of H. A. King, tearing a hole five feet in diameter through the roof, the first and second floor and into the earth. H. A. King, in an adjoining room, was thrown to the floor unconscious by the shock. The roads and fields in the vicinity are strewn with boulders, some of which weigh several hundred pounds.

Phil Hess, a farmer living more than two miles from the factory, may lose his right ear, which was nearly severed by a piece of glass which struck him just as he was about to enter his home. I. H. Beland of Truesdale, will probably lose his eye from flying glass, and E. A. Fox, a farmer, lost much blood when a vein in his wrist was cut.

Supt. Brady, who was blown through the air, first to the roof of a magazine and then to the ground, without being injured, was too startled to realize what had happened.

The main offices of the Dupont company are in Wilmington, Del., and as soon as telegraph communication opened today local officials received positive orders to make no statements as to the cause or nature of the explosion, the amount of powder destroyed or amount still in the magazines.

The company has had trouble with residents of Kenosha County following previous explosions. Two years ago a suit brought against the company on the ground that it was a public menace was won by the company.

HUMANE SOCIETY REPORT

1468 Cases Investigated, With 78 Convictions.

The annual report of the Humane Society of Missouri shows that 78 persons were convicted or entered pleas of guilty in prosecutions directed by the society in 1910, charging cruelty to animals. Investigations were made involving the treatment of 147 children. Eleven children were sent to institutions or furnished homes, and the parents of 33 were admonished.

Of 1321 cases of abuse of animals reported to the society, 1026 were remedied by warning the owners, the report shows. The society expended $4810.55 during the year. It had on hand, Feb. 1, 1911, $233.10 in cash and $2938.35 invested in bonds.

First Aid

Intelligent and Timely Treatment Often Prevents Serious Results.

It is not always wise to meddle, but the recommendation of Resinol Ointment to some unfortunate sufferer with Eczema or other unsightly skin disease is but acting the good Samaritan. Resinol gives instantaneous relief in all itching and irritating skin troubles, and in most cases a complete cure is effected in a surprisingly short time. You could not do a kinder deed than to recommend Resinol to anyone who has been tortured with itching or inflamed piles. This excellent and reliable remedy is perfectly harmless and will not irritate the most sensitive parts. It is used and highly recommended by nurses and the profession for milk crust, scald-head and the various rashes, chafings and eruptions incident to infancy and childhood. Resinol Ointment will immediately stop the pain of a burn or scald, or a bee-sting or any laceration of the skin. Resinol Soap is especially recommended to cure and prevent skin troubles, and should be used from the first bathing on. It is undoubtedly a delightful bath soap. It keeps the skin pure and in perfect condition. It should be in every family bathroom. These articles can be procured wherever fine toilet goods are sold. A clever booklet on "Care of the Skin and Complexion" will be sent you if you write to Resinol Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

20,000 Women Bought It Yesterday

This is an entirely new dish—this Van Camp's Spaghetti.

This is one of the few towns where most grocers have it.

But, even now, 20,000 women are buying it daily. We have never created such a popular dish.

Some people have eaten spaghetti in Rome and wished they could bring a supply back to America.

But our chefs, in two years, have perfected a recipe better than Italy ever knew.

The recipe is secret. We can never reveal it to you. But, of the 17 ingredients, the main ones are these:

Durum wheat spaghetti.
Herkimer County full cream cheese.
Best creamery butter.
The same superlative tomato sauce we use in Van Camp's Pork & Beans.

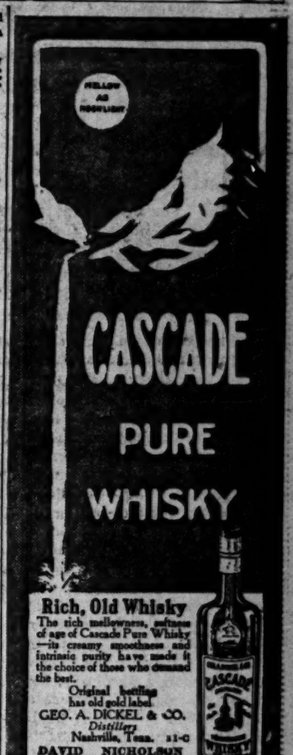

The dish is prepared in our kitchens and supplied to you ready to serve. Simply heat it or bake it, as you prefer.

It costs you less than to make it yourself, even if we told you how.

This is a dish you ought to know, and know it while it's new. You'll find yourself serving it ten times as often as you serve spaghetti now.

Tell your grocer to send you some.

THE GAME APPROPRIATION.

After a tiresome and useless struggle to muss up the best game law the State ever had, the House of Representatives finally fixed the appropriation at $90,000 for the next two years, which is $17,000 more than the enemies of the game law wished and $60,000 less than its friends think is necessary. Commercial greed, political jealousies and factional differences are some of the elements that have crept in to disturb a question that could be easily and rightly settled if the Legislature was specially moved to act in the interest of the public.

The preservation of game may be a matter of special interest to hunters and sportsmen, but all legislation directed to the subject is based on the general welfare. Practically, however, the hunters pay the bill. The receipts of the Game Department from the sale of hunters' licenses last year were approximately $93,000. There is no reason why all the receipts from this source should not go to the support of the Game Department. Certainly payment to the amount of $90,000 a year warrants an appropriation of $150,000, the amount estimated as necessary.

This amount asked insures ample protection of the game and it is only equitable that whatever the hunters pay should be expended for that purpose. The lawmakers have made a deal of pother about a matter which should have taken up very little time.

An enterprising correspondent found two men in the Mexican insurgent army who could say what they were fighting for; all the others wanted spoils, just like Chairman Kiel and his associates.

SCANDALIZING POLITICAL MAGNATES.

Under the amendment to the Illinois libel laws proposed by Mr. Lee O'Neil Browne, it would not be enough to prove that only the truth was told in any given case of alleged libel. After this has been done the motives for telling the truth, and nothing but the truth, must go on trial. Unless it can be proved that only pure and noble motives move the exposure of anyone who ought to be exposed, then conviction follows and publicity is muzzled, under the Middle Age theory of the sacrosanctity of magnates.

The maxim in dealing with medieval magnates was "the greater the truth the greater the libel." This would apply with full force to modern bosses, who organize jack pots in deciding senatorial elections. With a law of this kind and the control of the machinery for jury-fixing, they could suppress scandal until scandalizing political magnates would be punished as effectively as lese majesty.

The author of the proposed reform in Illinois justice is in full sympathy with the considerable company of minor magnates who are living down costly vindications. The greater the truth, the greater the libel might be if the rest were told. Most of them may be well satisfied to let well enough alone, so long as they can keep out of jail.

As a result of the rate decision the New York Central cut its quarterly dividend from 1¼ to 1 1-5 per cent, a reduction of 1-20 of one per cent, and if the Interstate Commerce Commission gets gay it will cut off 1-85 more.

"BOSTON—1915."

"Boston—1915," says the Boston Traveler, "is now ready for business." By that is meant that of the five years agreed on as the period for remaking Boston the two years of preparation have elapsed and the time of execution has arrived. Before the end of 1915 Boston expects to have transformed itself physically, socially, governmentally and in 10 other ways. The suggestions accepted and approved number 13.

It is the most interesting and promising scheme of practical improvement ever seriously undertaken by a self-governing municipality. It sets lofty ideals and enlists general interest and cooperation. It is calculated to stir civic pride and stimulate patriotism.

Briefly outlined, the recommendations call for a federation plan for a Greater Boston and a comprehensive scheme of city planning. In the latter are included better transportation facilities, model tenements, more complete use of school houses in social as well as educational work and a great playground system. The Traveler says:

> Other proposals call for a permanent plan of sidewalk improvement, more convenience stations in public places, a civic building for the use of charitable organizations, full and prompt registration of births, more thorough regulation of medical examinations, the enforcement of parental responsibility, and the extension of popular art exhibits.

To this great task Boston has committed itself. If only half is realized, the result will still be momentous. Boston is next to St. Louis in population, under the census of last year. It is a greater financial and industrial center, as well as the center of a larger tributary population. There is a lesson in its progressiveness of obvious local application if St. Louis contemplates maintaining the rivalry.

THE STAND-PAT CAMPAIGN.

The campaign of the stand-patters has been outlined if not clearly defined. They have changed from the stand of admiring the manner in which the Payne-Aldrich law was producing revenue to fearing that any change will ruin the Treasury. They have suddenly reversed their point of view. Whereas for many months they have been saying that there was a surplus, Panama Canal expenditures not considered, they now say, there is deficit, Panama Canal expenditures being figured in. Surplus has a prosperous sound and deficit spells disaster.

As a matter of fact, the Payne-Aldrich law, drawn with no pretense that it would produce revenue, has been a fair revenue producer, much to the surprise of its advocates. They have rejoiced that it has produced somewhere near enough revenue to meet the ordinary demands of the Government.

If this is true of a tariff made to foster privilege and nourish special interests, how easy it will be for a tariff in which revenue raising is the matter of chief importance to supply funds for the Treasury. The return to the Treasury of the duties which are now diverted by prohibitive tariffs into the coffers of the trusts will be only a first step. A duty of 50 per cent on woolens would encourage importations and bring revenue whereas the 100 per cent rate forbids importations and gives the Government no revenue at all.

Under a properly adjusted tariff trade will be encouraged and increased, not penalized and hampered. Revenue enough is the smallest difficulty that confronts the Democrats. But it is the bogie the stand-patters are going to set up to fright the souls of the faithful followers of privilege.

Lee O'Neil Browne's bill to make publishing the truth libelous is finding favor in Illinois. Lorimer and Cullom are both for it, and Browne himself testifies that it is the truth that hurts.

MUNICIPAL COURTS BILL HAS A CHANCE.

The Senate will pass the Municipal Courts bill. There is a belief that the measure has a chance in the House, which refused to send it to engrossment last week. This belief is based on the fact that certain Democratic members feel that their votes against engrossment operated to discharge in full their promises to the St. Louis spoils delegation.

Whether it was or was not such a discharge is a practical question of log-rolling, but not a matter of general ethical concern. The first obligation of every member of the Assembly is to the people. No agreement with other members can annul this primary debt or be superior to it.

Members who voted against engrossment may use any arguments they choose to convince themselves, but the basic truth remains that if they vote against this bill they block reform and progress and if they vote for it they indorse a plan which will correct a gross evil whose perpetuation is not less a contribution to political viciousness in the State than in St. Louis.

To several distinguished veterans who offered their services, the President explained it was only a mimic war, never thinking they knew it before they volunteered.

A SOUTHERN SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

A principal purpose of the Southern Commercial Congress at Atlanta this week was to celebrate the year as a semi-centennial (1861-1911) by making an authentic record of the South's "victories in peace" during 50 years.

Included as a member of the Southwestern group, Missouri is able to show its "means" or "estimated true wealth," increasing from co-operation with its neighbors, until it is now credited in billions of dollars, with nearly twice the total of the eight South Central states in 1880, while they in their turn have increased until their total is over three times that of Missouri this year, and more than five times their own total in 1870.

As a Southern semi-centennial record, the reports made, state by state at Atlanta, fulfill their purpose by showing how much life can be made to mean in increased values and opportunities, in spite of the worst disadvantages, including those of politics. The victories it boasts are those of voluntary co-operation and of free American initiative. The world has no half century in which the results have been more remarkable. In celebrating the semi-centennial of 1861 the South shows the meaning of "Reconstruction," as it has reconstructed itself voluntarily outside of politics since 1880.

English politicians fear we are going to annex Mexico, whereas we haven't got over annexing Canada yet.

OPPOSITION TO JUVENILE COURTS.

The proposed amendment to the Juvenile Courts law, providing that juvenile courts shall only be established in cities of 200,000 or more inhabitants, should be defeated. The existing law permits cities and counties having 50,000 or more inhabitants to create such courts. If the amendment carries, it will deprive the counties of St. Louis, Jasper and Greene from having juvenile courts. It is said that the proposed new law was framed for St. Joseph, which does not want a juvenile court, but wishes all cases involving children to be tried in the regular criminal courts.

It is difficult to see how St. Joseph can justify this stand, if it has taken it. Are the children of that city, or of the cities and counties with 50,000 inhabitants of less value than the children of St. Louis? Are the adult criminals of St. Joseph less depraved and less liable to injuriously affect juvenile offenders than the criminals of St. Louis? Or are the cities of 200,000 and over the only places that can afford to treat the children humanely? Are the children of the smaller towns and counties less worthy of consideration than those of metropolitan centers?

The proposed law would be a step backward. Instead of eliminating the inclusive provision of the present law, they should be expanded to cover all towns where children need the protection afforded by juvenile courts.

If the local Democrats do not utilize the coming opportunity to win a city election, it will be because the party is without the brains or courage to seize any opportunity.

A Philadelphia girl advises women to learn to box and wrestle, so they can subdue their husbands by physical force. It would be more satisfactory to the men, too, than tears and guile.

Having announced that he has "nothing to say about anything," the Colonel will proceed to consume the next six weeks in saying it. He evidently wants a diplomatic post.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Postal Employes Need Rest.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In reply to Oscar Dane, I desire to inform him that Postmaster Akins did not "ask" him to sign a petition on Sunday closing of the Postoffice, but did grant the request of his 1500 employes and gave his kind and considerate permission for them to petition the press and public of St. Louis as to whether the delivery of mail on Sunday was an absolute necessity to the important many or a habit with the unimportant few.

President Taft and Postmaster-General Hitchcock have indorsed Sunday closing as our most honored chiefs, and locally such high and just citizens as that liberal-minded, peerless prince of eloquence, His Grace Most Rev. John J. Glennon; our foremost honored citizen, Hon David R. Francis; our most able and just jurist, Hon. Judge Elmer B. Adams; such brilliant lights as Isaac H. Lionberger and such able business men as P. Chouteau Maffit, and last but not least, such molders of opinion as the Post-Dispatch.

No, Mr. Dane, Sunday closing will not shorten your life "just one-seventh," but will to the contrary lengthen it and increase your happiness and your business 50 per cent if you do like 1500 tired and weary Postoffice employes desire to do, to take this well-earned rest on one day of the week.

Medical Freedom.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your editorial on "Restrictive Legislation" deserves commendation for its fearlessness and clarity of expression. The position you have taken is in line with the best thought of the day.

The healing of the sick is always an art and will likely remain so to the end of time. Of course the science of medicine will advance along new lines as the race grows wiser, but there is after all a vast difference between medicine and healing. Medicine is what we do to alleviate pain and bodily or mental distress, while healing is, in the last analysis, always a psychic process, over which man has but an indirect control. All that the best healer or physician can do is to make use of certain known material remedies or mental formulae which are calculated to stimulate the real agency which does the curing.

Since each person is a law unto himself, what will help one will not always help another. The mental attitude, the temperament, the ensuing physical conditions, and other equally important factors are too often entirely ignored by the best doctors of orthodox medicine. All of these things, however, have a great part to play in the phenomena of healing.

So we believe that you are entirely right when you assert that only in perfect medical freedom is the way to safety. A vigorous protest against the measure you have unearthed will be waged by the league for which I write. We thank you for calling attention to it. OSCAR EVERTZ,
Secretary, Missouri Medical Liberty League.

Post-Dispatch Is Doing This.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have watched with much interest the fight that the Post-Dispatch inaugurated in behalf of the people for an extra session to take up the "tariff" question for reducing the burdensome tax on the necessities of life and clothes, and cannot help but praise the Post-Dispatch for having finally succeeded by a vigorous campaign exploited through the signatures of the people to the point of haivng President Taft finally order an extra session of Congress.

Knowing the Post-Dispatch is first in everything, I call attention to the sermon delivered by Rabbi Leon Harrison at Temple Israel. Public opinion will force Russia to carry out the terms of its treaty with the United States relative to passports, or if not, public opinion will force our President to abrogate the treaty between the United States and Russia on the ground of the insults perpetrated by the Russian Government on American citizens. The Post-Dispatch can as vigorously exploit this vital question that concerns the national honor of American citizens as it successfully handled the tariff question.

ADAM GOLDMAN.

Socialism and Marriage.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In answer to your editorial of March 1, "Socialists and Marriage," it must be borne in mind that Socialism is a science and not a moral code. Socialism deals with economics. Primarily we Socialists are interested in a law that will give to each worker the full value of his toil. Which means that the majority of the people will have more than they now have. Just how having more to make a home will break up the family is rather difficult to understand. I believe that under better economic conditions there will be less of divorce. Some will say that divorce is more prevalent among the rich. That is true. It is also true that wealth does not bring happiness. The only real happiness is the joy of accomplishing. Under proper economic condition the rich would find joy in work. They are ignorant of that joy today. The poor are more moral than the rich because they know the joy of work and the rich do not. The poor would be contented if they were not robbed of the product of their toil. The rich would be more moral if they were employed at something useful. Finally, I believe in monogamy. I believe marriages are made in heaven. I believe the "kingdom" would "come on earth as it is in heaven" if we did not allow the workers to be robbed through the profit system. I believe the only heaven possible is a heaven on this earth. If my belief is true, then there never has been a true marriage on this earth and never will be until we have Socialism.

In considering this temperance proposition, do not lose sight of the fact that it includes a number of things besides the cup that cheers, including talking about it. Bust just now we are reminded of the eating habit, which affects more people, even if less seriously, than the booze business. While few men who leave drink alone are likely to soak the family clock to satisby an appetite, there are plenty who eat themselves to death. They eat too much, which is the worst evil, and they eat the wrong sort of food in the wrong manner, and no one can do those things without paying an extra price, just as sure as that the drunkard's only loss doesn't consist of the cash he corrals for the barkeep.

ABOUT SHAW.

The trouble with Bernard Shaw is that he has too much time to think. The result is that much of what he thinks seems very absurd to those of us who haven't much time to think. An idle thinker like Shaw is a great deal more dangerous to present peace than the idle rich. He gets on too fast. Socrates, for instance, said some of the very things Shaw is saying. The interval between Socrates and Shaw has not brought them about. What can be done immediately, and not what can be done goodness knows when, is more to the point. Anything else only makes smart reading.

MARCH.

Any boy born between the first and nineteenth of March has an outside chance to be President. Andrew Jackson was born on the fifteenth. Grover Cleveland was born on the eighteenth. This was the last day upon which Mr. Cleveland could have been born and still be President. He could, of course, have been Vice-President, but there is no division of time as to vice-presidents. A vice-president may be born any time. Or he may not be born at all. It is all one with fame.

Mr. Bryan's case proves the division. Mr. Bryan was born on the nineteenth of March.

Rates on various manufactured products are reduced. Total duties remitted by the United States, $6,250,000; total to be remitted by Canada, $4,500,000.

Love All the Time Would Be a Nuisance

Bernard Shaw in His Preface to "Getting Married" Says Home Life Is No More Natural Than a Bird and Cage, and Polygamy Is Under Ban Merely Because Sexes Are Equal in Number —A Review for the Post-Dispatch.

By Nixola Greeley-Smith.

THE revolt against marriage has been put down.

Don Quixote (otherwise Bernard) Shaw, riding full tilt against the windmill of social convention, has tackled the subject of "getting married" and reduced that gravest hitherto most insoluble problem of existence to a handful of epigrams and a half dozen recommendations.

Of course the mad Knight of Adelphi Terrace has considered the matrimonial question before. But such wisdom as he has dispensed upon it has been more or less incidental to the consideration of other subjects, such as bad landlords in London or the iniquities of John Bull in Ireland.

But in the volume of new plays he has just published, "Getting Married" is the title and the subject of a highly interesting and iconoclastic drama, and with his usual custom of putting the dramatic cart before his Pegasus he develops his more serious philosophy of marriage in an interminable preface—just 28 pages shorter than the play it is intended to introduce.

Following this illustrious example, I place Mr. Shaw's conclusions before his arguments.

1. Make divorce as easy, as cheap and as private as marriage.

2. Grant divorce at the request of either party, whether the other consents or not; and admit no other ground than the request, which should be made without stating any reasons.

3. Confine the power of dissolving marriage for misconduct to the State acting on the petition of the king's proctor or other suitable functionary, who may, however, be moved by either party to intervene in ordinary request cases, not to prevent the divorce taking place, but to enforce alimony if it be refused and the case is one which needs it.

4. Make it impossible for marriage to be used as a punishment as it is at present. Send the husband and wife to penal servitude if you disapprove of their conduct and want to punish them; but do not send them back to perpetual wedlock.

5. If, on the other hand, you think a couple perfectly innocent and well conducted, do not condemn them also to perpetual wedlock against their wills, thereby making the treatment of what you consider innocence on both sides the same as the treatment of what you consider guilt on both sides.

6. Place the work of a wife and mother on the same footing as other work; that is, on the footing of labor worthy of its hire; and provide for unemployment in exactly as far unemployment in shipbuilding or any other recognized bread-winning trade.

7. And take and deal with all the consequences of these acts of justice instead of letting yourself be frightened out of reason and good sense by fear of consequences. We must finally adapt our institutions to human nature. In the long run our present plan of trying to force human nature into a mould of existing abuses, superstitions, and corrupt interests, produces the explosive forces that wreck civilization.

8. Never forget that if you leave your law to judges and your religion to bishops you will presently find yourself without law or religion. If you doubt this, ask any decent bishop or judge.

"HOME life as we understand it," declares this sophisticated sage, "is no more natural to us than a cage is to a cockatoo.

"Indissoluble marriage is an academic figment, advocated only by celibates and by comfortably married people who imagine that if other couples are uncomfortable it must be their own fault, just as rich people are apt to imagine that if other people are poor it serves them right.

"There is always some means of dissolution. The only question to be considered is, What shall the conditions of the dissolution be?

"If we adopt the common romantic assumption that the object of marriage is bliss, then the very strongest reason for dissolving a marriage is that it shall be disagreeable to one or other or both of the parties. If we accept the view that the object of marriage is to provide for the production and rearing of children, then childlessness should be a conclusive reason for dissolution.

"As neither of these causes entitles married persons to divorce it is at once clear that our marriage law is not founded on either assumption. What it is really founded on is the morality of the tenth commandment, which English women will one day succeed in obliterating from the walls of our churches by refusing to enter any building where they are publicly classed with a man's house, his ox and his ass, as his purchased chattels.

"We must be reasonable in our domestic ideals," he adds. "I do not think that life at a public school is altogether good for a boy any more than barrack life is altogether good for a soldier. But neither is home life altogether good. Such good as it does, I should say, is due to its freedom from the very atmosphere it professes to supply. That atmosphere is usually described as an atmosphere of love, and this definition should be sufficient to put any sane person on guard against it.

"THE people who talk and write as if the highest attainable state is that of a family stewing in love continuously from the cradle to the grave can hardly have given five minutes' serious consideration to so outrageous a proposition. They cannot have even made up their minds as to what they mean by love, for when they expatiate on their thesis they are sometimes talking about kindness, and sometimes about mere appetite. In either sense they are equally far from the realities of life.

"No healthy man or animal is occupied with love in any sense for more than a very small portion, indeed, of the time he devotes to business and to recreations wholly unconnected with love. A wife entirely preoccupied with her affection for her husband, a mother entirely preoccupied with her affection for her children, may be all very well in a book (for people who like that kind of book); but in actual life she is a nuisance. Husbands may escape from her when their business compels them to be away from home all day, but young children may be, and quite often are, killed by her cuddling and coddling and doctoring and preaching; above all, by her continuous attempts to excite precocious sentimentality—a practice as objectionable and possibly as mischievous as the worst tricks of the worst nursemaids.

"In most healthy families there is a revolt against this tendency—the exchanging of presents on birthdays is barred by general consent, and the relations of the parties are placed by an express treaty on an unsentimental footing."

But do not imagine for a moment that the man who can cut more intricate figures on thin ice than any other fancy skater now before the public confines himself long to such tame subjects as the giving of birthday presents.

IN a little while Mr. Shaw establishes to his own satisfaction that the foundation of marriage as we understand it, i. e., monogamy, is not an inherent viciousness in a plural number of wives or husbands but to the hard fact that men and women are born in about equal numbers.

"Experience shows that women do not object to polygamy when it is customary; on the contrary, they are its most ardent supporters," he declares. "The reason is obvious. The question, as it presents itself in practice to a woman, is whether it is better to have, say, a whole share in a tenth-rate man or a tenth share in a first-rate man.

"Substitute the word Income for the word Man and you will have the question as it presents itself economically to the dependent woman.

"The woman whose instincts are maternal, who desires superior children more than anything else, never hesitates. She would take a thousandth share, if necessary, in a husband who was a man in a thousand, rather than have some comparatively weedy weakling all to herself. It is the comparatively weedy weakling, left mateless by polygamy, who objects. Thus, it was not the women of Salt Lake City nor even of America who attacked Mormon polygamy. It was the men. And very naturally. On the other hand, women object to polyandry, because polyandry enables the best women to monopolize all the men, just as polygamy enables the best men to monopolize all the women. That is why all our ordinary men and women are unanimous in defense of monogamy, the men because it excludes polygamy, the women because it excludes polyandry."

"IF we are to make polygamy a sucess we must limit it. If we have two women to every one man we must allow each man only two wives. That is simple; but unfortunately our own actual proportion is, roughly, something like 1 1-1f woman to 1 man. Now you cannot enact that each man shall be allowed 1 1-11 wives, or that each woman who cannot get a husband all to herself shall divide herself between eleven already married husbands. Thus there is no way out for us through polygamy.

"There is no way at all out of the present system of condemning the superfluous women to barrenness, except by legitimizing the children of women who are not married to the fathers.

"The right to bear a child, perhaps the most sacred of all woman's rights, is not one that should have any conditions attached to it except in the interests of race welfare. There are many women of admirable character, strong, capable, independent, who dislike the domestic habits of men; have no natural turn of mothering and coddling them; and find the concession of conjugal rights to any person under any conditions intolerable by their self-respect.

"Yet the general sense of the community recognizes in these very women the fittest people to have charge of children, and trusts them, as schoolmistress and matrons of institutions, more than women of any other type when it is possible to procure them for such work. Why should the taking of a husband be imposed on these women as the price of their maternity? I am quite unable to answer that question."

The only alternative Mr. Shaw sees to the practical abolition of marriage his suggestion would bring about is prevented by free, unlimited divorce.

And here we arrive at the moral of "Getting Married," which seems to be that marriage is a more or less preliminary to divorce.

Tetrazzini's Queer Deep Sea Costume

TETRAZZINI smoothed a fold of her white negligee. To me this particular prima donna has always seemed a very lovable person; so simple and gay and really childish. She reminds one irresistibly of a kitten, a nice little, well-fed kitten in a sportive mood. And I never cease to marvel at Madame Tetrazzini's ridiculously small hands, with their ridiculously large rings. Her face she frames in an absurdly sophisticated coiffure. A baby with marcel waves and rhinestone combs would not be funnier.

"But you are looking very well, after your Western tour," I remarked.

"Am I not, eh?" smiled Madame Tetrazzini. "But wait till you see me in that most marvelous dress in which I shall appear at my concert. I call it my peacock dress, and I designed it all myself."

"You designed it yourself?" I repeated.

"But you do not believe?" she exclaimed. "And all these many years I have designed always my own costumes. But surely every woman should do this much for herself. Otherwise she looks like—what is it you call them—biscuits.

"I mean that a woman who copies always the styles of other women looks ever the same size and shape as other women, just as one takes the round tin and cuts many biscuits all exactly the same.

"But why should a woman be so stupid? The good God, He makes every woman's face and figure different. Why is it, then, that every woman should not dress in a different costume? For myself, I make the drawing and take it to the modiste. 'There,' I say, 'make me the dress like this drawing.' Ah; you do not believe me, eh? One moment, I shall prove to you."

Madame Tetrazzini rummaged among some papers on the desk. Then she waved a sheet of paper triumphantly.

"Here," she explained, "is the drawing I myself made for my dress of the deep sea. You shall print it in your paper if you like. See, I shall sign my name upon it, that people may know Tetrazzini makes the drawings for the costumes she wears.

"I call it my 'dress of the deep seas,' because the silks and chiffons are the color of deep waters. About the bottom and on the train the color is darkest, and many shells have been embroidered. Then there are, too, the branches of coral embroidered in real coral. And there are many little fishes, with scales that shine, and over the arms a fine net, with a fringe of little shells, and a crab caught in it. And on the bodice there is another great crab with spangled shell.

"You make the strange face when I tell you of it, but I make my assurances to you that it is a most beautiful costume and of an altogether difference from the costume of any other woman."

Mr. and Mrs. Jarr

Get Into the Social Swim and Find That the Swimming is Hard.

CHAPTER III.

THE bony blond lady turned the piano stool up for five or six revolutions. Then she frowned and turned it down to where it had been before. Then she struck a note, "Ping!" and frowned. Sig. Sparalgo, standing by the piano, winced as though stabbed.

"If the piano is the least bit out of tune (and it MUST be at concert pitch!) Sig. Sparalgo will not sing!" whispered Mrs. Jarr.

"It's a stall! His real trade is tuning pianos. He comes around the next day and stings them for an extra ten-spot, I'll bet," replied Mr. Jarr.

Sig. Sparalgo threw back his head, rolled his eyes to the ceiling, grasped a roll of music with both hands across his fat stomach and, in a thin, high voice that sounded silly coming from so much fat, shrilled:

"Ah, che la morte!"

Then he stopped and shook his head at the blond, bony lady at the piano. She brought her hands down on the piano keys so the rings on her fingers cracked sharply and the Signor shrugged his shoulders.

"Non, non!" he cried. "Eet is impos'!"

Consternation was on all faces except Mr. Jarr's. Mrs. Vanswine and Mrs. Stryver hurried over to the singer and his accompanist, and an animated and somewhat angry discussion took place in subdued tones.

Finally Mrs. Vanswine rapped on the piano with her fan and, calling the house to order, remarked:

"Friends, a contretemps occurs. Sig. Sparalgo refuses to sing the 'Miserere' unless he receives his bete noir."

Mr. Jarr snickered.

"She means 'pour boire'—tip. 'Bete noir, means 'black beast'—the Signor is that all right. But I got an inkling that the Signor stopped hollering for more mort, and is now hollering for his money."

Mrs. Vanswin rapped again with her fan and said coldly:

"We have had this same trouble upon other occasions for charity. Great artists will not graciously consent to appear unless they are paid. We are disappointed at the attendance, when it is considered that this affair has such select and exclusive patronage and such a list of notable talent, not to mention the worthy cause—the Bungalow Colony for Naval Militia Veterans."

There was applause at this, and Mrs. Vanswine rapped for order again.

"The soiree cannot go on," she said sharply, "unless $95 more is raised. I see 30 gentlemen present. Each must give me $3. It a moment, Signor. You are perfectly right," she added, this time sweetly.

Then she stalked around the room and held up every man present for $3 at the point of her fan.

"I am arteest," said the Signor haughtily. "Ne getta da mon, no seenga da aria, seabooch!"

"He is going to sing 'Scabooch!'" whispered Mrs. Jarr. "I have always longed to hear it."

"It's a swearing song, then," said Mr. Jarr: "It's Italian cussing. I've heard the word before. Come, let's duck before I'm made to come across with three iron men."

Mr. Jarr had arisen to go, but Mrs. Jarr saw that the cold eye of Mrs. Vanswine was upon him, and pulled him back. With a groan he fished up $5.

"There's no change!" snapped Mrs. Vanswine. "A lot of very cheap people are here tonight. The affair is very mixed. One person only had a dollar!"

She returned to the Signor and handed him the $90. The Signor handed it to the bony blond accompanist, his wife, who made, for one awful, heart-stopping second, an unconscious move toward her stocking.

A gasp of relief went up as she recovered her presence of mind and thrust the roll of bills in the sleeve of her gauntlet gloves, from the wrist gaps of which her hands protruded.

"Now we pro-ceed," said the Signor, "ze Miserere, I seeng heem, but zat ees all, as I have consairt tomorrow night an' mus' not strain my voice."

Then he rolled his eyes to the accompanist and the musicale was under way.

"You are not going, Signor?" asked poor Mrs. Stryver when the great artist finished and the polite applause died down.

"Not till we get someseeng to eat," said the Signor greedily.

"That for mine!" said Mr. Jarr. "And remember, Clara, we've got to eat $15 worth!"

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add ½ pint of warm water, and stir about two minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready-made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—ADV.

Being Confessions of the 700th Wife, Translated for the Post-Dispatch

By Helen Rowland.

TELL me, ye Simple Ones, how long will ye go in for Paris freaks?

And the scoffers delight in their Ha-has! and the scorners cry WHY should she vote. For, behold, she is a SCREAM!

I, also, will mock at your folly. I will laugh when old maidenhood cometh. When your tears flow, I will say "I told you so!"

For ye would none of MY counsel!

Lo, observe the Belle of Broadway, how she revealeth herself.

Her shoes are low, and her skirts are high, and her ankles are covered with spun silk. But around her NECK she weareth an animal scarf weighing 20 pounds; and she is NOT cold!

Her skirt is as a single trouser-leg in width, wherein she trippeth with much gaucherie; yet her muff is PRODIGIOUS, and many pussy cats have died for her sake.

She is NOT made for locomotion.

In her ears are hoops of gold and precious near-stones which liken her unto a Hottentot; and upon her breast she pinneth cut flowers made of PURE cotton.

Twenty-three puffs pinneth she upon her head; yet she covereth these with much hat, so that of her hair, bought or real, NAUGHT may be seen.

And at sight of her men flee, crying: Help! Help!

Yet in her heart she saith: Behold, I am desirable. For, LOOK, how they stare at me!

But a WISE damsel useth discretion in her adornment.

Her skirts are long and frilly; for she knoweth that it is not that which may be SEEN, but that which may NOT be seen, which is alluring.

Her hats are becoming, and the curls of her head do their WORK!

And lo, men shall follow her all the days of her life! The highbrows shall say How interesting! and the low-brows shall cry, A peach!

She shall be invited forth to dinner and shall eat regardless of cost. All her years shall be made pleasant with burnt offerings and proposals.

But the fool shall dwell in a boarding house and pay her own gas bills, and her life shall be made bitter prunes and bread pudding and economy.

For, verily, verily, when a man seeketh a wife, he seeketh not a pastel POSTER, but a work of ART! SELAH!

"MORE HASTE, THE LESS SPEED," NOW BROWNS' MOTTO

Manager Wallace Will Not Let Men Overexert Themselves, Even Though Team Is Behind in Training.

BY CLARENCE F. LLOYD.
(A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.)

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 10.

IT is interesting to note the different systems of training adopted by St. Louis' two baseball managers. Rhoderick J. Wallace, making his debut as a big league skipper, fears injury to the Browns. For that reason he will not permit his charges to go full tilt until the opening of the season.

"On the other hand, Roger Bresnahan, of the Cardinals, is just the opposite—he makes his players hustle doing everything. He works himself and his men just as hard in the practice set-tos as in the National League championship games.

Even in the games with the Reds, beginning tomorrow, Wallace will not put up any of his veterans for sacrifice. He plans to use only the young men in camp in the series of nine games. That may prevent some of the old-timers being at their best form when the series with the Cardinals begins March 25. But Wallace cares not.

When told that it might be a good plan to use what he considers his strongest lineup in the closing games with the Reds in an effort to fit the Browns for the Cardinal conflicts, he said he wouldn't listen to that kind of an argument.

Wallace Not Dubious.

"We're going to try to beat the Cardinals," said Manager Wallace, "but I am not going to take any chances with my men befeore that series. We may be trimmed by Bresnahan's boys, but if we are, they will have to set something of a pace."

Even with the youngsters playing in all the games here, it doesn't seem possible for the veterans to be in anything but good condition when the Browns return to St. Louis. The Hot Springs climate is great for training purposes. After having spent a week here in March it is no wonder that so many balltossers select this spot as the place to get into condition for the annual campaign.

The series of nine games with the Reds will take up much of the Browns' time after Saturday, but before and after the contests Manager Wallace will put the squad through batting and fielding practice.

It is probable that the players may be a trifle slow in rounding to base work form. Wallace may decide to skip that part of the baseball primer, as the grounds here are very hard and it is dangerous to slide on such base paths.

The competition for all positions save shortstop is going to be keen. Wallace cannot be crowded out of duty at shortfield. He has a sore arm, but his weight now is at the fighting notch. The whip will be right in a short time, with the sun daily beating down on the member, and Rhody is sure to be there as of yore.

BY RHODERICK J. WALLACE, Manager St. Louis Browns.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 10.

WE have been in training a week now, and the daily work is beginning to have its good effect on the players. I am well satisfied with the way the men are rounding to form, although I had hoped that they would be better advanced than they are.

Their tardiness in getting into condition has been caused by the failure to obtain more work, as we are required to share the park with the Reds. If the weather continues warm, though, we will be fit when the time comes. Right now Jimmy Austin is the only player who has a real sore arm. Nelson's illness is a set-back, but "Red" will be all right in a short time.

THE STUFF OUR CARDINALS ARE MADE OF

(Sketched at Training Camp, by Jean Knott.)

HARMON SURE TO BE ROGER'S HOPE IN SPRING GAMES

Cardinal Veteran's Early Work Indicates He'll Be Ready by March 25.

WEST BADEN, Ind., March 10.—Although Manager Bresnahan will not give out any news as to what he intends to do with his bunch of youngsters, it is hardly probable that any heads will be lopped off until the squad returns to St. Louis, which will in all probability be Monday or Tuesday.

Bresnahan is putting in all of his time when not actually working himself watching the new recruits. The "Duke" is a Sphinx when it comes to answering questions as to what he thinks of certain young players.

* * *

Bob Harmon was the star of the work yesterday. There does not seem to be a chance for Harmon to fail to prove one of the Cardinals' main reliances in the box this season. Harmon, while he did not burn them over yesterday, had speed and what is more, seemed to have excellent control. He will get an early chance at the Browns.

* * *

Sallee also impressed fans by the earnest way in which he is working.

* * *

Laudermilk has recovered from the jolt he received in a soccer game Wednesday and was out on the field.

* * *

Bresnahan had the different pitchers take turns on the mound yesterday and pitch to the batters. There was no infield, but the outfielders were kept busy chasing the horsehide. After a man had hit the ball he chased around the diamond.

* * *

The squad was a bit surprised when, after an excellent workout, Bresnahan called for the soccer football and gave the men another opportunity to show what they don't know about the great English game.

* * *

Everybody was stiff and sore this morning, but Bresnahan handed out the cheerful information that he had an even harder workout planned for today to work the kinks out of the aching muscles.

* * *

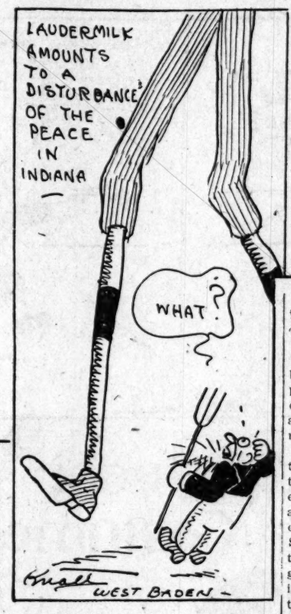

Bresnahan seems to think pretty well of Lee Magee. Frank Betcher has not been heard from, and when again asked about his missing infielder, who is reported to be a holdout, Bresnahan snorted. He declares that Magee is capable of jumping into any infield hole at any time, and that if Betcher does not want to report that he will not be missed.

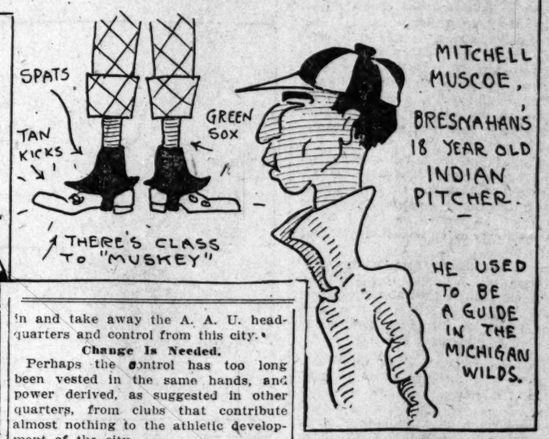

* * *

A trio of pitchers—Dell, Hennis and Peddington—are also numbered among the missing.

"MIKE" MOWREY DEMONSTRATING HIS PHYSICAL CONDITION

Graf Wants Another Chance.

Steve Graf, the South Side Turnverein wrestler, who was defeated by Al Wasem last Sunday at the Columbian A. C., wants another match with Wasem. Graf claims that while he was only supposed to make 142 pounds, he really reduced to 138 pounds, which weakened him.

WRAY'S COLUMN

No Secret About It.

ST. LOUIS is a difficult proposition on two counts: It's hard to get freight into it, and hard to get news out of it. Perhaps the last accounts for the sudden discovery by old Joe Sugden that Bobby Wallace, even today, is the greatest fielding shortstop that ever was. The fact has long been suspected in these parts, Joe.

* * *

Like the Cat, He Came Back.

ALFREDO DE ORO, the class of the pool world, both in mind and cue finesse of his particular stripe, rather flouts the "can't-come-back" theory. De Oro, in the last few months, has beaten the pick of the world at pool—Hueston and Keough. He is even improving instead of going back.

Yet, in 1904, De Oro was not only in the sere and yellow, but he was not expected to live many moons. Since then De Oro has not only returned to life at his specialty, but he has held the three-cushion billiard championship. De Oro is in the fifties, too, at which age even Bob Fitz can hardly hope for a regeneration.

* * *

Forbes Himself Again.

HARRY FORBES, bantam champion, is a fighter who seems to have run old Father Time off the premises. Forbes is over 30 years old and, in his title days, did not always wear the blue badge of temperance. He lost two championships, five or six years ago, and for a time went into complete retirement—so far as the publice knew. Two years ago Forbes took it into his head to come back.

And here he is.

For example, there's his record of last year. Forbes fought seven fights. Four of them he won on knockouts, two on decisions and one he lost on points, to Abe Attell. And Abe is the one who beat him out of one title when he was in his prime.

Among the men Forbes beat was Coster, a boy who was given the decision over Abe Attell by the newspaper critics of New York.

Thus, after eight years, Forbes has come back to where he is to fight again for the championship of the world in his class, with John Coulon. This surely also deserves some recognition as a "come-back" feat, even if Forbes fails to whip Coulon.

* * *

One Way to Win It.

CHRISTIE MATHEWSON is willing to bet $100 he will not lose a game to the St. Louis Cardinals this season. Perhaps his good friend McGraw has told Christie he doesn't intend to work him against Bresnahan's men.

* * *

While old Bob Fitz is in our midst, lets treat him like the good old scout he is and do something handsome for him. Let's give him an A. A. U. card, so he can cut in on some of these amateur purses and pick up a little change in his old age.

* * *

Driving the Wolf Away.

BECAUSE Bob Fitzsimmons is showing at an East Side house and has been but little heralded on his trip this time, the idea seems to have gained ground that "Ruby" Robert is not the prosperous wight of other days. But while it is true that the wily Hugh McIntosh and other sportsmen from across the seas have sold Robert some expensive lemon groves, here and there, they have not been able to make more than a dent or two in the otherwise affluent circumstances of the Freckled One.

They do say that Robert is down to his last $300,000 or so and that all that he and his wife can get for their show turn is $800 or $1000 a week. This is enough to furnish the wolf at the door with poisoned meat.

* * *

Time to Wake Up.

ANOTHER exhibition of slovenliness in "amateur" methods such as existed in the registration department of the A. A. U. in the matter of boxing, will just about bring over a committee from the national board to investigate our little district and see what causes all this long sleep in which we have been engaged.

And if the committee came it might see fit to shake things up a bit. Kansas City is a growing town and, furthermore, it doesn't drop asleep at the switch with the fast mail due. It might cut in and take away the A. A. U. headquarters and control from this city.

Change Is Needed.

Perhaps the control has too long been vested in the same hands, and power derived, as suggested in other quarters, from clubs that contribute almost nothing to the athletic development of the city.

That the control of the Western District is a matter of petty athletic politics developed when Edward B. Cochems and Martin Delaney, some years ago, tried to blast their way into the organization to make themselves useful. Such jockeying and unparliamentary tactics as then enabled the present regime to keep in power on that occasion is a matter for orderly minds to hope to be delivered from forever.

Some day some person with the time and inclination to look into all this will take a tilt at the A. A. U. windmill. And there will not be a Don Quixote eventuation, either.

* * *

"Daredevil" Dave Altizer can't play under a nagging manager. Note—A "nagging manager" is one who believes in letting a player know that his $1500 work is not commensurate with his $3500 salary. Clark Griffith has been known to "nag" some in his time, so the outlook for David is rawther raw.

Tips and Cues

Layton will oppose Moore in the three-cushion billiard tournament match at the Rex, Friday night, while Nelson and Dolph will furnish the pool tournament games. Beck defeated Meyers in the pool tournament Thursday, 50 to 49.

Reidemeyer meets Hirsch and Chapman will oppose Walsh in the billiard tournament games at the Royal, Friday. Hart 25, Cripp 24, and Smiesman 25, Skiff 22, were the results of Thursday's games.

Dalton will play Hoffman in the class A three-cushion billiard league match at the Grand, Friday evening. Hook defeated Speildoch, 40 to 29, and Waters won from Skinski, 50 to 46, Thursday. The latter match was in the Business Men's handicap tournament.

Stock and Winn will furnish the innovation tournament game at Peterson's, Friday. Goessling won from Bush, 95 to 85, Thursday.

Palmer and Crockwell will meet in the Friday afternoon three-cushion billiard league match at the Hauser. Denton and Carl will play Friday evening. Austin won from Fisher Thursday, 32 to 26.

Crisp and "Lefty" George Star in First Game of the Season

A five-inning game between the Veterans and the Colts is the program for this morning. Manager Wallace says he will use the same teams that furnished yesterday's contest. He will also work two or three pitchers on each side.

* * *

Joe Crisp, the catcher from the Newark (Eastern League) team, whose presence with the Browns is the result of George Edward Waddell's release to Joe McGinnity's team, last season, jumped into the limelight yesterday by slamming two home runs over the right field fence being his safeties. He also sacrificed and tapped to George the other time up.

* * *

Schweitzer made a swell running capture of a foul from Fanning's bat in the eighth inning. It was one of the fielding features of the contest. Blake had a great chance to put the Colts to the good in the seventh, but, with runners on third and first, he hit a liner straight into McAuliey's big mitt for the third demise.

* * *

Pat Newnam, who was spiked by Bert Shotten, was up and about this morning. The wound will not cause him to remain idle, although he will be careful with the injury. In trying for Shotten at first, the former stepped on the Texan's foot. He retired from the game, and Killefer was switched from the Colt's second baseman to the Veteran's first-sacker. Gregory worked three innings for the Veterans and looked good. He is a big, husky fellow, the right build for a pitcher.

* * *

Dudley Criss is still an absentee.

Aside from Crisp's hitting (incidentally he got a scratch hit in the fifth), the work of "Lefty" George on the mound was a distinct feature. George was the only one of the six pitchers worked, who attempted a curve ball. He had lots of steam and not a single player obtained a hit during the three innings he worked. The only player to reach first base was Coveleskie, who got a life when Stone made a horrible muff of his easy skier. George struck out Shotten, who was also whiffed in the early stages of the game by Noyes.

* * *

It was an interesting struggle. Williams batted .666, a single that almost tore a leg off Blake and a triple that bumped the left field fence being his safeties. He also sacrificed and tapped to George the other time up.

LOVING CUP FOR SOCCER LEADERS

The silver loving cup offered by Dr. Alexander Murray, president of the St. Louis Soccer Football League, to go to the team winning the city championship, has been completed and placed on exhibition. The cup is to be competed for annually and can only be won permanently by three successive victories.

The St. Leos, the present city champions and the pennant winners in the St. Louis Soccer Football League, play the St. Teresas, champions of the St. Louis U. Park League, at Athletic Park Sunday afternoon.

The St. Roses, winners of the Amateur League championship, and the Yawits team, champions of the Kulage Park League, will clash at St. Louis U. Park.

The winners will meet the following Sunday in a game for the silver cup and the city title.

YALE MAY PUT BAN ON WINTER SPORTS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 10.—Basket ball and hockey are on probation at Yale, and both sports may be abolished unless some way is found of curbing the tendency to rough tactics, which have developed during the past two or three seasons.

Brockett Signs Contract.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., March 10.—Harry Wolter, the Yankee's rightfielder, arrived from California yesterday and reported. He brought along the signed contract of Louis Brockett, the pitcher who was with the Yankees two years ago, but who refused to play last year because of a difference with the management as to what salary he should be paid. The snow was still on the ground yesterday, but the bunch had a fairly good workout.

EAST SIDE BOWLERS FOR CITY TOURNEY

It is expected that quite a number of bowlers from Granite City, East St. Louis and Belleville will enter the City Tenpin Association tournament, which will open on the new Washington avenue alleys March 25.

The association held a meeting Thursday night and decided to allow the East Siders to enter if they wish to do so, as the bowlers from across the river helped out the A. B. C. greatly. The entry list for the tournament will be closed Saturday night.

Taft to Attend Game.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 10.—The Boston National squad was divided yesterday and the Regulars defeated the Colts in a six-inning practice game, 16 to 9. President Taft, who is stopping here, will attend a game between Boston and Augusta a week from Saturday.

YOUNGSTERS BEAT BROWN VETS IN SLUGGING GAME

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 10.—Jack Powell made his inaugural appearance on the firing line here in this morning's exhibition game for the Colts against the Veterans. The youngsters defeated the old-timers by a 7-to-5 score. Powell deserved a better fate against the Veterans. He showed a lot of speed, although he attempted few curve balls during the three innings.

Bill Bailey, playing right field for the Colts, mussed up a couple of plays that would have cut off runs.

Joe Lake also worked on the firing line for the Colts. Gregory of Joplin (Western Association) team, and Mike Murphy, from the Appleton (Wisconsin-Illinois League) team, were the pitchers for the Veterans. Because of a sore arm, Jimmy Austin laid off and Barney Pelty took his place at third, while Bill Killefer played first in Pat Newnam's place.

Score by innings:

Innings—	1	2	3	4	5	6	T.	H.	E.
Regulars	0	0	2	0	2	0	5	12	1
Yannigans	0	7	0	0	0	x	7	9	1

Batteries—Gregory and Murphy and Crisp and Krichell; Lake and Powell and Stephens and Clark. Umpire—Lloyd.

HUESTON NO MATCH FOR CUBAN CUEIST

NEW YORK, March 10.—Alfredo de Oro retains his world's championship pool title, the Cuban having defeated Thomas Hueston, challenger, 600 to 493, in their match which ended at Doyle's academy last night.

De Oro scored 195 points to Hueston's 158 last night. De Oro registered the high run of the match, 55. Hueston's high run was 31.

Hueston did not play in his best form during the match because of illness. De Oro, however, put up a game that would be hard to beat.

Red Sox Sell Tonneman.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 10.—The Boston Americans have sold Catcher Charles Tonneman to the Jersey City club. Tonneman was with the Toronto club last season.

SULLIVAN SELECTS M. A. C.'S RELAY TEAM

By winning the 50-yards swim from scratch and the fancy diving event at the Missouri A. C. Thursday night R. E. Frizelle continues to lead in the point competition with a total of 74 points. Suttle is second with 57 points and Hugh Siegel third with 41 1-2 points. A gold medal will be awarded at the end of the season for the man scoring the greatest number of points.

Swimming Instructor Sullivan announced that Chauncey Heath, David Suttle, George Hall and R. E. Frizelle would compose the M. A. C. relay team that will oppose the Chicago A. A. team in a dual meet at the M. A. C., Saturday evening. Millard Kaiser, scratch man in the plunge for distance won Thursday night when he covered 73 feet. Frizette, with a four point handicap, won the fancy diving competition with a total of 130 points. Siegel, with a 14 second allowance, won the 100 yards breast stroke race.

BAD BLOOD OFTEN INHERITED

Bad blood does not always come as the result of careless living, or indiscretions; it is a condition frequently inherited. Normal, healthy blood contains millions of tiny red corpuscles, which are the vitalizing and nourishing element of the circulation, their office being to provide every portion of the system with its necessary strength and nutriment. In weak, impure blood these corpuscles are lacking in numbers, and therefore the blood is not able to supply the proper amount of nourishment to the body. Bad blood manifests itself in many ways. With some it takes the form of skin diseases and eruptions, others become bilious and malarious, with sallow complexions, torpid liver, etc. Bad blood produces Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, and like troubles. Nothing is equal to S. S. S. as a remedy for bad blood; it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing not only the qualities to cleanse and purify the blood, but composed of roots, herbs and barks that tone up every part of the system, and assist in the creation of blood nutriment. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Blood Poison and all other blood disorders. Book on the blood free to all.

There's much of mutual interest for those who labor and those who employ labor in the Post-Dispatch Help Wanted columns.

Lost and Found

IF YOU LOSE ANYTHING, and will advertise it here, you will surely recover it if found by an honest person. A 3-time ad seldom fails. Remarkable recoveries are brought about every day through this column. Your druggist our agent.

IF YOU FIND ANYTHING, bring it to the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau, 210-212 North Broadway. Get a claim check. Advertise the article. Reclaim it if the owner does not.

THE LAW—People who find lost articles are interested in knowing that the State Law (Sections 8268 and 8273, R. S., 1909) is strict in requiring them to seek the owners through advertisement and otherwise, and that a failure to do so, if same can be proven, involves a severe penalty.

TWINS HAVE TWIN SONS

Town Gives Banquet in Honor of Aged Brothers.

PARIS, March 10.—A banquet was given in Verdun, near Chalons in honor of Jean and Pierre Bonnin, 80-year-old twins.

The two look so much alike that the Mayor of Verdun once headed a delegation requesting one of them to wear a mustache, so that they could be distinguished. Each is the father of twin sons and the four cousins bear a remarkable resemblance.

FARMERS' CAUCUS PLOWING DEEP IN OKLAHOMA HOUSE

Combine Effectually Opposes All Legislation Inimical to Farmers' Interests.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., March 10.—"You ought to have a photograph made of your bill, or you will not recognize it after the farmers' caucus gets through with it," is a frequent remark during the present session of the Legislature.

Forty-one farmer members of the lower house banded themselves together early in the session to oppose all measures prejudicial to the farmers' interests.

Especially did these farmers resolve to defeat all measures that unnecessarily increase the burdens of taxation. As a result of this caucus, hundreds of thousands of dollars have been chopped from appropriation bills.

Of the 41 members in the caucus, seven are Republicans. No legislator can belong to the caucus unless he is a practical farmer. Only a party caucus is more binding upon these farmers than their own caucus. The farmers' caucus lacks only 14 of having a majority of the House, and constitutes a sufficiently powerful working faction to sway any legislation in which the caucus is interested.

Few of these farmers have practical experience either as legislators or politicians, and to that extent frequently have become the dupes of shrewd manipulators. But despite such advantages as the professional politicians have been able to gain over the rural statesmen, the farmers' caucus has plowed a deep furrow.

EATING WAY INTO NAVY

Dennis Green, Ten Pounds Below Weight, Is Gaining.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 10.—Dennis Green is eating between meals, trying to fatten himself into a job. His ambition is to join the navy, and the minimum weight is 115 pounds, 10 more than he weighed when he applied. After a two weeks' course of eating, he applied again and found he was only eight ounces short. He went home for a few more square meals and expects to be carrying overweight at the next trial.

ST. LOUIS MONEY MARKET.

Now that the Comptroller's call is issued it is believed there may be a temporary easing of quotations, but it is hardly thought that the banks will make any further concessions in rates. Spring planting should withdraw some funds from this reserve point in the next week or two. The present week has been signalized by no changes of moment either in time or demand discount rates. Most of the institutions are showing very substantial cash reserve balances at the present time.

CLEARINGS ARE LOWER.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

"Bank exchanges continue to exhibit a marked loss in comparison with a year ago, the total this week at all leading cities in the United States aggregating only $2,640,-983,375, a decrease as compared with the corresponding week a year ago of 10.4 per cent. Compared with the same week in 1909 the very satisfactory gain of 10.9 is shown.

"New York City, as usual, makes the most indifferent exhibit, the loss at that center being 14.2 per cent, which is due in large part to the extreme lethargy in the speculative and financial markets. In fact, sales of stocks on the New York Stock Exchange during the last week averaged considerably less than $800,000 daily.

"The showing by cities outside New York is also somewhat unfavorable, although the loss is only 2.6 per cent, most of them reporting more or less decrease."

HOGS—While there was a pretty good supply of hogs on sale, it was the lightest run of the week. There was a good demand and the market opened active, with values on a 5c higher basis than the Thursday trade. The top of the market was up to $7.25 and the bulk of the hogs sold at $6.95@7.15. Shippers and butchers were much better buyers than the packers on the early market and therefore secured most of the hogs that sold early. Packers bought plain to good heavy hogs at $6.80@7; butcher hogs sold largely at $7.05@7.15 and light shippers and best pigs $7.10@7.25. Common pigs and lights sold from $4@6.75. The market closed on a firm basis, with the offerings well cleaned up.

SHEEP—The sheep trade was on a steady to strong basis for the good fat offerings, but there was very little call for anything that was not fat. Good to choice lambs sold at $6@6.25, fat hand-weight yearlings $5.15@5.50, good fat sheep $4.25@4.75, plain heavy ewes $4@4.25 and bucks $3.50@3.75.

HORSES AND MULES—There was a special auction again today. Horses active and steady; 150 wheel mules out of the 500 contracted for by the Government were inspected and bought today, and will be shipped tomorrow. The commission mule market moved slightly better today, with lighter offerings. Fresh receipts approximated 300 head.

"CROP KILLERS" AT WORK IN WHEAT FIELDS

Speculative Bugs Make Season's Debut Over in Illinois.

MODERN MILLER.

Favorable weather in most of the winter wheat belt maintains crop prospects above the average for this season of the year. Advices from the late drouth-stricken sections of the Southwest state that plentiful moisture greatly improved crop conditions. In Oklahoma, where wheat was supposed to be dead, 50 per cent of a yield is expected. Hessian fly is still reported in some parts of Illinois and Indiana, but there is no material damage.

The "crop killers" made their first appearance of the season in today's wheat market, prices rising sharply on reports of Hessian fly damage in Illinois. A Canton wire furnished the important information that one stalk inspected contained 16 eggs. It did not state, however, how many stalks had been examined to find the one necessary to resurrect the "killers." Speculation "scouts" and "bugologists" are said to be scouring the fields for additional specimens of the new-born crop destroyers.

If one does not believe in the power of bugs as bullish manipulators of grain, the market's upturn today should convince the most skeptical. For months all the bullish machinery of the exchanges has been powerless to advance the wheat market, despite dry weather reports over the winter wheat where it was raining in torrents. But low and behold, 16 bugs do in one day put wheat up a cent a bushel, something the speculative bugs have found it almost impossible. How high will wheat sell when these 16 bugs have raised an enormous crop destroying family is now a vital question for experts, farmers and speculators.

Outside of the important speculative discovery in Illinois the day's news was not of bullish import.

Broomhall estimates the world's wheat shipments for the week, exclusive of North America, at 10,800,000 bu, or 1,500,-000 bu over last week. At the corresponding week last year shipments were 11,4[illegible],000 bu, and in 1909, 10,[illegible],000 bu.

Cables reflected some selling of wheat in Liverpool in the early market on the American weakness, larger Argentine and Australian shipments than expected, estimates of liberal world's shipments and favorable crop news from the Argentine and Russia. Shorts were fair buyers in the late foreign market on an improved demand from the Continent for cargoes and parcels and a fair spot trade.

Argentine shipments for the week showed:

	This wk.	Last wk.	Last yr.
Wheat	3,592,000	2,536,000	4,064,000
Corn	68,000	8,000	41,000

Wheat shipments Jan. 1 to date have been 22,402,000, against [illegible] bu last year. Corn shipments, 2,621,000 bu, against 2,772,000 bu last year.

Liverpool spot wheat closed unchanged, futures ⅛d lower. Spot corn unchanged to ¼d up; futures unchanged. Paris wheat, ¼@½c lower; flour, 1¼c lower. Antwerp and Berlin wheat ⅝c lower; Budapest, 1⅝c lower.

Minneapolis cars of wheat today were 160, against 108 last week and 300 last year. Duluth had 8 against 19 last week and 73 last year. Winnipeg received 259 cars, against 183 last week and 129 last year.

Local wheat receipts today 49,500 bu, or 33 cars local, 13 through; last year, 58,221 bu, or 987 sacks, 35 cars local, 26 through.

Local corn receipts today, 40,925 bu, or 530 sacks, 26 cars local, 7 through; last year, 40,700 bu, or 30 cars local, 7 through.

Local oats receipts today, 61,200 bu, or 30 cars local, 6 through; last year, 24,-000 bu, or 13 cars local, 2 through.

Chicago wheat receipts today were 18,-000 bu, against 58,800 bu last year; shipments, 7900 bu, against 46,700 bu last year.

Kansas City wheat receipts today were 27,600 bu, against 58,800 bu last year; shipments, 56,400 bu, against 58,800 bu last year.

Total primary wheat receipts today were 324,034 bu, against 684,679 bu last year; shipments, 227,100 bu, against 263,527 bu last year.

The Argentine wheat visible shows 4,344,000 bu, against 3,680,000 bu last week and 3,680,000 bu last year. Corn, 272,000 bu, against 315,000 bu last week and 306,000 bu last year.

Australian wheat shipments for the week were 2,480,000 bu, against 1,-160,000 bu last week and 1,608,000 bu last year.

Minneapolis wires: "This spring is starting out the same as 1910. No snow south of line east and west through Central Minnesota, and the snowfall for the winter has been light excepting in north half of North Dakota."

Export clearances of wheat and flour today were 95,000 bu; of corn, 297,000 bu; of oats, 3000 bu.

Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 600,000 bu for the week. Duluth stocks increased 50,000 bu.

Bradstreet's export figures showed:

	This week.	Last week.	Last year.
Wheat	2,249,000	2,980,000	1,679,000
Corn	2,355,000	2,862,000	1,023,000

Wheat exports July 1 to date have been 86,806,000 bu, against 110,806,000 bu last year. Corn exports, 32,484,000 bu, against 19,634,000 bu last year.

The corn market was strong and higher, mostly in sympathy with wheat. Cables were steady and the cash market firm. Shorts were the best buyers on the advance, although commission houses reported improved demands. Primary receipts were about 100,000 bu under last year. Oats were firm in sympathy with other grains.

Cash wheat closed about ½c higher and in fair demand from local sources.

Cash corn 1c higher and in good demand.

Cash oats steady for white grades and in fair local demand. Some inquiry from shippers. Mixed oats nominal.

Post-Dispatch's Complete Daily Record of Markets and Finance

STOCK PRICES SLIGHTLY FAVOR BULL INTERESTS

Close Shows Small Gains; Outside Demand Continues Light.

NEW YORK, March 10.

The market closed quiet and irregular. Some issues lost their gains, but Canadian Pacific moved up sharply. The buying power was light and professionals covered up contracts. Last prices generally showed small gains. The market was stagnant at the noon hour with prices showing small gains. The steel tonnage report showing an increase in unfilled orders of 300,000 was about as expected and caused only a ripple in the market. Bonds were fairly active and firm.

Stocks snowed minor gains at the opening of speculation Friday. Trading was again professional, however, and many active issues were not traded in during the first half hour.

Fractional gains were scored on American issues in London before our exchange opened, but the demand came almost entirely from this side. The London settlement shows only a minor bull account outstanding in Americans, much of which is concentrated in the U. S. Steel issues. London has been a moderate buyer in this market in the past two days.

From a market standpoint the Mexican situation shows little change, although the official announcement that the Government's intention is to prevent filibustering, protect American and foreign interests and property and practically endeavor to end the revolt, has had a reassuring influence in foreign as well as domestic financial circles. Best posted financial authorities express the opinion that the stock market will gradually break away from Mexican influences, unless President Diaz should die and Mexico become involved in widespread revolt.

Money markets reflect continued ease and the reduction of the Bank of England's discount rate indicates an abundance of funds in foreign centers for some time to come. The call of the Comptroller will show the banks in good shape to meet the spring crop requirements.

AMERICAN STOCKS IN LONDON

LONDON, March 10.—American securities were quiet and steady during the first hour today. A limited number of buying orders advanced prices from ⅛ to ⅜ over yesterday's New York closing.

New York supported the market in the afternoon, when Canadian Pacific led in point of strength. The closing was steady.

NEW YORK MONEY.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Close:

Prime mercantile paper, 4 to 4½ per cent; sterling exchange easy, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8385@4.8410 for 60-day bills and at 4.8615 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.83⅝@4.83¾. Bar silver, 52¾c. Mexican dollars, 46c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.

JACKSON'S $100,000 FEES ABOVE INQUIRY

Former Kansas Attorney-General's Friends Defeat Investigation Move.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 10.—Friends of Congressman Fred S. Jackson of the Fourth District made a hard and winning fight in the Legislature to defeat the Orr resolution calling for an investigation of the Attorney-General's office during the Jackson incumbency.

First the resolution was chloroformed and, after waiting several weeks, Orr made a search and found it was still alive, but sleeping. Then he made such an effort to get the matter before the House that it was made a special order of business, and when the vote came it was given a nice, cozy pigeon hole by a vote of 62 to 55.

Orr charges that, while Jackson was Attorney-General, his collected fees in four years amounted to $100,000. He presented affidavits. In Wyandotte County $31,000 in fees were assessed and about half collected. In Leavenworth County it was about the same. The fees were nearly all for violations of the prohibition law. The Attorney-General would start the prosecution and if the accused had any money, he could pay a fine and costs, including $35 to $100 as a fee for the Attorney-General, then be paroled and resume the liquor business. Jackson says he turned in to the State all these fees to which it was entitled.

FREES CAPTURED BURGLAR

Later It Is Discovered That He Stole $10.50.

A burglar, leaving the home of William Oefelein, 4270A Kossuth avenue, at 8 p. m., Thursday, was seen by neighbors who notified Steve Morland, one of Oefelein's roomers. Morland captured the burglar, searched him, found no evidence of theft and allowed him to depart.

Later $10.50 was missed from Oefelein's room.

ILL, SHOOTS HIMSELF

Wife Enters Home as Husband Fires Fatal Shot.

George Hearne of 2233 Maiden lane, shot himself Thursday just as his wife, who had been visiting a neighbor, entered the house.

Hearne, who was 24 years old and in ill health, could not get work to support his wife and 3-year-old child. He left the employ of the Rawlings Sporting Goods Co last Saturday.

DETAILED REPORTS OF DAY'S TRADING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, March 10.—Prices ranged fractionally above yesterday's close, when the stock market opened today. Gains of ⅜ were made by Reading, Missouri Pacific, Northern Pacific and National Railways of Mexico seconds; Union Pacific, United States Steel preferred and Amalgamated Copper advanced ½.

A selected few stocks were bid up sharply and the market generally was a trifle higher, with Reading and United States Steel in better demand. Lehigh Valley and American Beet Sugar gained 1.

Heavy absorption of the Canadian group of stocks was the conspicuous movement in the market during the morning. Canadian Pacific improved only slightly, but allied issues were strong, with gains of 2¼ for Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie, and 2 for Wisconsin Central and the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic preferred. Trading in the other stocks, although quiet, was characterized by a good tone, United States Steel was strong, on the expectations of a favorable tonnage report later in the day. Amalgamated Copper and Great Northern Ore certificates improved 1. Missouri Pacific 1¼. Bonds were steady.

The abandonment of concerted buying in particular stocks left the market without any initiative and speculation accordingly fell back into dullness. Prices, however, ruled well above yesterday's close in most cases.

Publication of the United States Steel Corporation's unfilled tonnage figures for February showing an increase of less than 300,000 tons led to selling by some disappointed holders and the stock lost half a point of its forenoon rise. Otherwise the market was at a standstill.

BULLET HIT BYSTANDER

Was Fired by Patrolman in Chasing Suspect.

William Riehl, clerk for Rossi Grocery Co., 812 North Sixth street, was struck by one of the bullets fired by Patrolmen Shelton and Lawless in their chase of Edward Daley at Sixth street and Franklin avenue Thursday. The bullet struck a light pole in front of the Rossi store and then hit Riehl in the right hip, inflicting a slight wound.

The police did not learn they had hit him until Friday, when Riehl told of it.

Daley broke away from the policemen after they had arrested him on general suspicion.

Clark to Take Cannon's Office.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Wallace Bassford, secretary to Speaker-elect Champ Clark, will establish permanent offices in the Election Committee rooms of the capitol in a few days. Clark will move into the present offices of Speaker Cannon April 4.

COTTON MARKET HIGHER ON BAD WEATHER REPORTS

NEW YORK COTTON CLOSE.

NEW YORK, March 10.

	Open.	Close.
March	14.27	14.29
April	14.36	14.38
May	14.47	14.48
June	14.30	14.32
July	14.29	14.30
August	13.83	13.85
October	12.71	12.72
December	12.61	12.62

NEW YORK, March 10.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 4@6 points, in sympathy with better cables than expected, and after a few minutes of hesitation as a result of realizing and local selling for a turn became firm and more active on a renewal of the covering movement and bull support inspired by expectations of bullish week-end figures, talk of hot weather in the Southwest and predictions that the final ginning report due a week from Monday will be followed by a reduction in crop estimates. Prices during the middle of the morning were about 8 to 10 points net higher with the new crop relatively firm.

A few stop-loss orders were uncovered at 14.40c for May, but offerings became a little heavier at 14.43c for that position and prices eased off 3 or 4 points from best during the late forenoon, with the market less active, but steady, at a net advance of about 5@6 points, at midday. Private cables from Liverpool say that Lancashire spinners decided to recommend a total curtailment of about 71 hours in the working time of the spindles.

Spot quiet; middling uplands, 14.45c nominal.

Estimated receipts at the ports today, 14,000 bales, against 17,631 last week, and 23,290 last year. For the week, 90,000 bales, against 108,899 last week and 78,382 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 1377 bales, against 9008 last year, and at Houston, 1568, against 1295 last year.

The market eased off several points from the best under realizing and local selling following the talk of short time in Lancashire, but the total proposed curtailment was not considered important by many traders and the market rallied during the early forenoon on renewed covering and some support attracted by the smaller into sight figures. The closing was irregular.

LIVERPOOL, March 10.—Closing: Cotton spot moderate business done; prices 7 points higher. American middling, 8.10d; good middling, 7.78d; middling, 7.66d; low middling, 7.46d; good ordinary, 7.20d; ordinary, 6.95d. The sales of the day were 6000 bales, of which 300 were for speculation and export and included 5800 American. Receipts, 14,000 bales, including 13,400 American. Futures opened firm and closed quiet, March, 7.44½d; March-April, 7.44¾d; April-May, 7.44½d; May-June, 7.45d; June-July, 7.42d; July-Aug., 7.38¼d; Aug.-Sept., 7.16d; Sept.-Oct., 6.87d; Oct.-Nov., 6.74d; Nov.-Dec., 6.68d; Dec.-Jan., 6.67¼d; Jan.-Feb., 6.67d.

JUDGE MARKED FOR DEATH BY NIGHT RIDERS

Accomplice Testifies That Man Was Picked to Kill Zealous Official.

"KING" IS IDENTIFIED

Members Tell of Condition Under Which They Joined Order of Violence.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., March 10.—That the assassination of County Judge A. J. C. Wells of Calloway County was a part of the plans of the night riders during the tobacco war in this section in 1907, was testified to yesterday in the trial of Dr. David Amos, alleged "General" of the night riders.

Arthur C. Cooper of Lyon County was the star witness for the prosecution. His brother, Axion Cooper, was killed last summer for revealing secrets growing out of the tobacco war raids. Arthur Cooper testified that he attended meetings presided over by Dr. Amos and attended by others under indictment. He said the assassination of Judge Wells, who was active in the prosecution of the night riders, was advocated, and that a man named Clan McCool was selected to do the work.

R. F. Warfield of Clarksville, Tenn., told of having joined the night riders at Guthrie, Ky. He said Dr. Amos was known as the "Commander-in-Chief of the Night Riders of Kentucky and Tennessee." He swore that he heard Dr. Amos tell of the raid upon Hopkinsville and that Ames admitted having been wounded there.

PICKELS WILL OBEY THE COURT'S ORDER

Back Alimony to Be Paid, $100 a Month for Wife, Father to See His Son.

Before Monday the attorneys for Frederick J. Pickel and his wife will agree to certain things which Judge Muench said Thursday must be done before he would enter of record the order he outlined in the suit of Mrs. Pickel against her husband for separate maintenance. The attorneys assured the court there would not be any difficulty in drawing the agreement. The order of the court will be made Monday.

Mrs. Pickel must agree to live in St. Louis with Frederick, her 5-year-old son, so that the child will be within jurisdiction of the court. Pickel will be ordered to pay his wife $100 a month and Mrs. Pickel must agree to let the father see his child at stated periods, which the lawyers will set after consultation with Pickel and his wife. They may agree that the father is to have the child at certain times.

Pickel owes his wife about $700 back alimony. Payment of this must be arranged for before the order of court is made.

HIS TITLE IN LICENSE

Count to Wed Ambassador's Daughter Insists Upon It.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Count Pourtales, who will soon wed Countess van Bernstorff, daughter of the German ambassador, insisted on "Count" being inserted in his marriage license and the clerk yielded to his request. The Count and his fiancee visited the city hall together. She gave her age as 22.

Count Pourtales is a subaltern of the First Regiment of Prussian Foot Guards. His stepmother is Countess Hermann Pourtales, formerly Miss Helen Barbey of New York. He is an attache of the German embassy. The wedding will take place March 27.

OXFORD MAN TO SPEAK

Graduate of English University to Address Lenten Audience.

The Rev. Charles J. Millar of Louisiana, Mo., will be the speaker at the noonday Lenten services at the Garrick Theater Saturday. His subject will be "The Three Temptations."

Rev. Mr. Millar is a graduate of Oxford University and was a member of the varsity eight.

On a visit to England he delivered a lecture in several English cities on "The Humorous Adventures of an Englishman in America."

ASQUITH'S DAUGHTER ILL

British Premier and Wife Hasten to Switzerland.

LONDON, March 10.—Premier and Mrs. Asquith left hurriedly last night for Switzerland, where their 13-year-old daughter Elizabeth has been stricken with bronchial pneumonia. Elizabeth accompanied her mother to Muerren for the winter sports shortly after Christmas, and remained there at school.

The Premier said he would return if he received reassuring bulletins on the way. His presence in the House of Commons is of vital importance to his party just now.

English Navy to Be Increased.

LONDON, March 10.—The naval estimates issued last night provide for the expenditure of $221,962,500, an increase of $19,000,000 on the previous year. The program includes five dreadnaughts, three protected cruisers, one unarmored cruiser, 20 destroyers, six submarines and an increase of 5000 men.

HARVARD LAMPOON ISSUE SUPPRESSED

Contains Sketch of Dr. Abbott and Eva Tanguay as "Historical Affinities."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 10.—The university authorities have suppressed this week's issue of the Harvard Lampoon, which contains a sketch showing the Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott arm in arm with Eva Tanquay, the comedienne, as "Historical Affinities."

Dr. Abbott preaches at Harvard two weeks each year. The Lampoon displays him in scanty attire and exaggerates his massive head and whiskers. Miss Tanguay appears in a gay attitude and costume.

The Harvard Low Life has made its appearance. Its columns are devoted chiefly to hitting at Irish-Americans engaged in Cambridge politics and to a facetious attack on the Crimson, a student publication.

FATHER AND SON DEAD, WIFE SHOT, OVER STORE BILL

Investigation of Tragedy Leads to Belief It Followed a Home Quarrel.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 10.—Christopher G. Weed, aged 50, and his 11-year-old son Valdemar were found shot dead, while Mrs. Wood was found with a bullet in her breast, late Thursday afternoon in their home in Branford, seven miles from this city, by Walter Woed, another son, aged 28.

The opinion of those who investigated the tragedy is that the shooting was done by Mrs. Wood after a quarrel with her husband over a bill from a New Haven store for dry goods purchased by her.

The Wood family is prominent in Branford. The son Walter said that his father received a bill from a New Haven dry goods store. His father was perplexed over the bill and decided to investigate. He left his factory and went to his home intending to go to New Haven to inquire about the bill. That was the last seen of him alive.

A revolver, four chambers of which had been discharged, was found near Mrs. Wood. Two shots had been fired into Wood, one into Waldemar, and the fourth into the woman.

It is said that Mr. and Mrs. Wood quarreled frequently. Where she got the revolver is not known.

HOWARD SEEKS PLAN TO COMPEL CLASSWORk

Students Disregard of Compulsory Attendance Rule Cause of Action.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 10.—The Harvard faculty is looking for a good scheme to compel students to attend classroom lectures and recitations.

Figures made public today by Dean Hurlbut show that during the past year 2308 Harvard students were absent from their classroom work 75,220 times. This represents an average of 30 days of the college year in which each student was absent.

Compulsory attendance is the rule at Harvard, but most of the students regard this rule as a well intentioned fiction.

$3 BRIDGE WORK A TOOTH

22 K. GOLD

ABOUT THE MOUTH AND TEETH.

The mouth is the prime factor of beauty and the most expressive feature of the human countenance. The whole face loses its charm if the mouth exhibits a lot of decayed, unsightly teeth. You can keep your countenance beautiful if your teeth are properly cared for. "Tooth pullers" will destroy the beauty of the teeth, but a reliable dentist will improve your looks by saving your teeth instead of destroying them.

It would seem that everyone would want nothing but the best in dentistry, but many people will sacrifice lasting quality for low price and in the end the work is no good.
